LET US DREAM CONFERENCE BINGHAMTON 2022

UNITING IN DIVISIVE TIMES

The world is facing significant challenges including social/economic impacts of an international pandemic, political polarization; calls for social justice, impacts of climate change, a rise in violence and war. What are the forces that shape these interconnected issues, how do they impact us and how do we move forward as individuals and on the community level?

Anyone who is active supporting and strengthening the community through their work, knows the feeling of being overwhelmed and challenged. Join us for an engaging dialogue focusing on:

- How humans react to change and pressure;
- How we can overcome resulting divisions in social, medical and educational spaces;
- Discover what research tells us about the human brain's reaction to trauma and stress;
- How that data helps us to move forward.

Two informative keynotes will be followed by three panels uniting educators, medical experts and social program thought leaders who will dive deeper into how together we can find common purpose and make a positive impact.
