

Fermin Romero from IT is involved with LUMA, Technology Officers Association

September 1, 2015

Assistant Director for Technology Services Fermin Romero has recently become involved in some exciting projects.

He was recently appointed as vice chairman of the SUNY Educational Technology Officers Association, a two-year term. And, on a more artistic level, he is involved with First Friday's LUMA Festival, which runs from 8 p.m. to midnight September 4 in downtown Binghamton.

The art show involves the use of a high-powered projector that will adorn five downtown buildings — Atomic Tom's, 196 State St.; Anthony Brunelli Fine Arts, 186 State St.; The Forum, 236 Washington St. (on the State Street side) The Christ Church tower, 10 Henry St.; and Townsquare Media, 59 Court St. — with moving images and animation.

Fermin is on the tech team, and has been involved with hardware setup. He'll also be running one of the computers and projectors during the event.

"I became involved when a friend of mine asked me if I knew anything about the software (VPT7) and projection equipment," he said. "It was a good fit because I've had experience with the software and projection equipment."

Stop by during First Friday and be amazed!
