

The Focus

faculty / staff e-newsletter

Posts published from September 1, 2017 to September 30, 2017, from news.sunybroome.edu/focus.

SUNY Broome student oil paintings on exhibit in campus library

September 29, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome art student Gigi Huang. Career

goal: Architecture

Stop by the second floor of the SUNY Broome campus library to check out a new exhibit of student oil paintings.

The students are in Professor Hall Groat's ART 116: Beginning Painting course. Their very first painting assignment involves learning how to both see and paint value using only Raw Umber and Titanium White oil paint. The objective is to make the geometric forms appear three dimensional through suggesting the light and shadow. (often referred to as chiaroscuro).

These oil paintings will be on view through October 15.

SUNY Broome art student Antoine Seif.
Career Goal: Graphic Design

Group photo of ART 116: Beginning Painting Course

Featured at the Gallery: A Celebration of Suffragists Through Art

September 29, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Gloria Guiotto donates her suffragist drawing to SUNY Broome's permanent art collection

The Gallery @ SUNY Broome will feature A Celebration of Suffragists Through Art in honor of the 100th anniversary of women's suffrage in New York State. This event is co-sponsored by the SUNY Broome Suffrage Anniversary sub-group of the Broome Tioga Suffrage Anniversary Committee.

The exhibit runs from Oct. 12 through 26 at the Gallery, which is located on the first floor of the SUNY Broome Library. Gallery hours are 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 3 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

An opening reception will run from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12.

The classical realist life-size portrait drawings were created by Beginning Drawing students taught by Associate Professor Evans, and explore notable iconic suffragists throughout history rendered in charcoal, pencil and mixed media. In addition, a group of logotypes celebrating 100 years of women voting in New York State will be on display, designed by Vestal High School students enrolled in the Fast Forward Introduction to Computer Graphics course taught by Melissa Restuccia.

Associate Professor Patricia Evans offered to have her ART 115: Beginning Drawing students research the history of suffragists, including birth and death records and their contributions toward the vote for women, culminating in a profound lesson on social and cultural history. Her students enthusiastically took on the challenge of researching the individual roles beginning in the 19th century, and then began the process of creating a likeness based on archival photographs. Of special note is Catherine Ruch Bartoo, a local woman's right activist who was an art teacher and musician; her drawing was donated by the student to SUNY Broome's permanent art collection. Drawings were also displayed at the Tioga County Courthouse on Aug. 19.

At the invitation of Associate Professor Margherita Rossi, Professor Evans delivered, installed and presented the drawings to the fifth annual Conference of the Democratic Women of the Southern Tier and Finger Lakes this summer from June 2 through June 3 in Seneca Falls, New York. Keynote speakers included Congresswoman Grace Meng and Louise Bernikow, noted author of six books on this subject.

Columbus Day power shut-down on Oct. 9

September 29, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

On October 9, Maintenance has scheduled the annual Columbus Day campus-wide power shutdown to do preventive maintenance and oil sampling of transformers and switchgears. NYSEG will be turning power off to the campus at 6 a.m. October 9 and restoring power at 3 p.m.

ITS will be disabling all computer center systems Sunday evening, October 8, at 7 p.m. The system will be restored after power is returned; this should be no later than 7 p.m. Monday, October 9. Please turn off your computers, printers and all other electrical devices before leaving for the weekend.

Read-a-rific: BECA Scholastic Book Fair on Oct. 12-18

September 29, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

BECA Scholastic Book Fair

October 12th - 18th: Titchener Lobby

Book Fair Times

10 am - 5 pm***

Proceeds to support the fundraising and community outreach initiatives of the BECA Club!

Broome Educators of Children Association

Give the gift of reading to the young people in your life!

The BECA Scholastic Book Fair runs from Oct. 12 through 18 in the Titchener Lobby from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on most days. Proceeds support the fundraising and community outreach initiatives of the Broome Educators of Children Association.

There will be something for everyone, so be sure to check it out!

BECA Scholastic Book Fair

October 12th - 18th: Titchener Lobby

Book Fair Times

10 am - 5 pm***

Proceeds to support the fundraising and community outreach initiatives of the BECA Club!

Broome Educators of Children Association

SUNY Broome Dining Hall to celebrate apples the week of Oct. 2

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

APPLE, TURKEY & CHEDDAR PANINI
Sliced Granny Smith apples with roasted turkey, aged cheddar and mango chutney on grilled sourdough

CURRIED SWEET POTATO & APPLE SOUP
Ripe apples and sweet potatoes mixed with fresh cilantro, onions, garlic, ginger, nutmeg and ground curry in a chicken broth

APPLE & BRIE TURKEY BURGER
Grilled turkey burger with melted brie, caramelized apples and onions, baby arugula and drizzled with honey mustard on a toasted brioche roll

SALMON & GREEN APPLE BOWL
Grilled salmon tossed with kale, spinach, golden raisins, and green apples, finished with a citrus vinaigrette

PAN SEARED CHICKEN WITH APPLE CRANBERRY SALAD
Pan seared chicken finished with an apple cider reduction and served with sautéed haricots verts and a wild rice apple-cranberry salad

ADD ON
Fresh Apples
Cider & Donuts
Apple Crisp

AMERICAN DINING CREATIONS

Mark your calendars! The SUNY Broome Dining Hall has another promotion coming up to coincide with the harvest season for local New York State apples.

American Dining Creations will feature an Apple Festival promotion in the main café the week of Oct. 2 through 6. They will have a different recipe every day using local apples, including a Pan Seared Chicken with Apple-Cranberry Salad, Apple & Brie Turkey Burger, and Salmon & Green Apple Bowl. They'll also have cider and doughnuts, and homemade apple crisp available all week long.

We hope to see you in the café to enjoy some great apple-themed lunch options!

Apple Festival

APPLE, TURKEY & CHEDDAR PANINI
Sliced Granny Smith apples with roasted turkey, aged cheddar and mango chutney on grilled sourdough

CURRIED SWEET POTATO & APPLE SOUP
Ripe apples and sweet potatoes mixed with fresh cilantro, onions, garlic, ginger, nutmeg and ground curry in a chicken broth

APPLE & BRIE TURKEY BURGER
Grilled turkey burger with melted brie, caramelized apples and onions, baby arugula and drizzled with honey mustard on a toasted brioche roll

SALMON & GREEN APPLE BOWL
Grilled salmon tossed with kale, spinach, golden raisins, and green apples, finished with a citrus vinaigrette

PAN SEARED CHICKEN WITH APPLE CRANBERRY SALAD
Pan seared chicken finished with an apple cider reduction and served with sautéed haricots verts and a wild rice apple-cranberry salad

ADD ON
Fresh Apples
Cider & Donuts
Apple Crisp

AMERICAN DINING CREATIONS

Oct. 5 Film Screening: Ethics and the Bathsheba Syndrome

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join Professor I.J. Byrnes from 3 to 4 p.m. Oct. 5 in T-205 for a brief film screening about leadership ethics that is relevant to future employees in business, the military and every workplace in between. If power corrupts, are any of us safe in our future careers?

Oct. 5 Common Hour: Photoshop Models

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join Art and Design Professor Hall Groat at 11 a.m. Oct. 5 in At-217 (the Mac Lab) to explore, through Adobe Photoshop, how digital manipulation has impacted fashion and advertising, and how “photoshopping” has become a verb in the modern vernacular.

SUNY Broome Theater announces Neil Simon's comedy 'Fools' for its fall show

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Pictured is the cast of Neil Simon's "Fools," to be performed at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday Nov. 16 and 17 in the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre on campus. Neil Simon has received more Oscar and Tony nominations than any other writer.

"Fools" is a lesser-known Simon play, but it received rave reviews when first produced on Broadway in 1981. The play is a fable about a master teacher, Leon Tolchinsky, who has landed a great job in a Russian hamlet only to find out that an old curse has everyone in the town suffering from chronic stupidity. And it's Leon's job to break the curse!

"The students and I are lucky and thrilled to be working again with a play by Neil Simon," said theater director Katherine Bacon. "He is the premier comedy writer for the stage, for film and for musical theater."

A short list of Neil Simon's massive body of work includes: The Odd Couple, Brighton Beach Memoirs, Barefoot in the Park, Broadway Bound, The Sunshine Boys, The Star Spangled Girl, Come Blow Your Horn, Last of the Red Hot Lovers, Lost in Yonkers (which also won the Pulitzer Prize) as well as the musicals such as Promises, Promises, The Goodbye Girl, Sweet Charity and They're Playing Our Song.

Mark your calendars for an evening of laughter and fun as our actors present a work by American's foremost comedic writer at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 16 and 17 the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre!

Banner down time on Friday

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Banner, including INB and MyCollege SSB access, will be unavailable Friday 9/29/2017 from 3:00 PM until approximately 6:00 PM. During this downtime, our Finance Department will be completing our normal year end Finance processes. These processes require us to restrict access to our Banner production environment until these tasks are completed successfully.

We understand that this is a busy time, and have therefore made arrangements to copy our production data to our Banner PPRD INB instance. During the down time, Banner INB PPRD will be available for lookup of student information and records. However, no updates should be made in the PPRD instance, but instead held onto to be processed once PROD becomes available. You may use your existing Banner PROD INB username and password to access PPRD INB during this time.

In addition, anyone who has access to Argos will be able to print student schedules during this time if needed using the PROD Connection by clicking the report referenced below in the Student folder in Argos.

The location of the report in Argos

As always, we appreciate your patience during this process.

In the Community: Binghamton mayoral candidates at BU Downtown Center forum

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Binghamton University Center for Civic Engagement, College of Community and Public Affairs and Vote Everywhere present an Evening with the Binghamton Mayoral Candidates at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 4
Binghamton University Downtown Center DC-220, 67 Washington St.

This fall, students, faculty, and staff at SUNY Broome and Binghamton University can play a critical role in the future of the City of Binghamton. On Nov. 7, city residents will choose Binghamton's next mayor, effectively determining how many local issues will be addressed.

In order to give the campus communities an opportunity to learn more about what each candidate hopes to do, the Center for Civic Engagement, College of Community and Public Affairs, and Andrew Goodman Foundation's Vote Everywhere Ambassadors are hosting An Evening with the Binghamton Mayoral Candidates. Moderated by NewsChannel 34's Jim Ehmke, this event is open to all who wish to learn more about their options.

Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to submit questions for the candidates online: <http://tinyurl.com/BingMayorQs>.

Chief Academic Officer's Team Meeting Highlights Folder

September 28, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Colleagues,

As you may have read or heard, in the interest of enhanced communication, my office will be publishing the highlights from the Chief Academic Officer's (CAO) team meetings in a shared folder in MyCollege. The highlights will be posted several times per month after the CAO team meetings.

If you have questions or comments about the initiatives and/or topics that have been covered, please bring those to your Chair, Dean, and/or the appropriate contact person respective to a particular initiative. If you are not certain who that is, please contact your Dean or Secretary Rhoda Neal. The Dean or Rhoda will pass the information along to the appropriate person.

You may view these highlight documents in the following location:

www.sunybroome.edu/infoshare

This information can also be found in MyCollege under 'Admin Groups'.

Thank you for your support,

Francis L. Battisti, Ph.D.

Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer

SUNY Distinguished Service Professor

SUNY Broome Community College

Shine the light on domestic violence this October

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please see this important message from our friends and colleagues at the Office for the Prevention of Domestic Violence.

Dear SUNY Colleagues,

As you may be aware, October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month. This is the 10th year of the “Shine the Light on Domestic Violence” campaign, coordinated by the New York State Office for the Prevention of Domestic Violence. Each year, organizations, communities, and individuals across the state “go purple,” which is the color of domestic violence awareness, by lighting buildings, wearing purple and doing creative activities incorporating the color purple. For many years, SUNY has been an active partner in the campaign, and we hope you plan to participate again this year.

As a leader in the State University system, you can encourage others to:

- Understand that intimate partner sexual assault (i.e., “date rape”) is domestic violence
- Provide education and training for students, faculty, staff, and administration
- Review, revise (if appropriate) and reissue campus policies about domestic and sexual violence

- Send campus-wide email reminders about locations of student health/wellness and counseling services
- Launch a campaign or awareness event
- Seek funding for specialized programs to combat domestic and sexual violence on campus
- Establish relationships with local domestic violence service providers located in each county statewide
- Establish relationships with local law enforcement; clarify roles and responsibilities of campus security in responding to domestic and sexual violence on campus
- Encourage the campus community to support domestic violence awareness and prevention throughout October by lighting buildings, fountains, signs and structures purple, wearing purple clothing, organizing information tables and awareness events and doing all they can to shine the light on this issue that impacts countless campus communities statewide
- Display posters, distribute brochures, and share information about the Shine the Light campaign to create a campus-wide culture that prioritizes the safety of all who live, work, and study there
- Access OPDV's Shine the Light Toolkit for free, downloadable resources and materials you can display, distribute, and discuss

Please share the following with all members of the SUNY system:

- “Wear Purple Day” is October 19, 2017. It is the day when all New Yorkers wear purple and talk about why.
- As part of the “Shine the Light” campaign, we encourage people to illuminate buildings and structures with purple lights for as much of the month as possible. For those who are only able to illuminate for one day, October 19 will be the statewide day.
- Participants should send captioned photos and emails of their efforts and awareness-raising activities and events to: opdvpurple@opdv.ny.gov for inclusion in OPDV's 2017 Facebook album.
- People can post on social media with #shinethelight to help spread the word (and we'll find those photos, too)

Thank you in advance for your support. If you have any questions about the campaign, please contact OPDV for assistance and information: opdvpurple@opdv.ny.gov

From the Desk of Dr. Battisti: Tech Fee Proposal

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Colleagues:

Attached you will find the timeline, proposal evaluation criteria, strategic directions, and form to propose student-fee funded technology purchases.

2017 18 Tech Fee Proposal Form \(PDF\) Tech Fee Proposal Instructions And Timelines 17 18 \(PDF\)

$550,000 is budgeted this year. Approximately $317,000 will be available for recurring campus-wide technology expenses, and $233,000 will be available for other student-related technology purchases. Feel free to contact Larry Allen at x5198 if you need assistance or have any questions.

Francis L. Battisti, Ph.D.

Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer

SUNY Distinguished Service Professor

SUNY Broome Community College

Open House Reminder: November 4

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Fall 2017 Open House will take place Saturday, November 4, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Baldwin Gym.

During the Fall 2016 Open House, SUNY Broome faculty and staff were able to engage with more than 400 prospective students. This resulted in 40 applications submitted during the event!

The Open House committee thanks you for your dedication to serving prospective students through your support of this event. If your department did not receive information regarding participation please contact Maureen Kollar at Kollarmk@sunybroome.edu or x5648.

Purple WHAT? Sign up for your Faculty/Staff Purple Briefcase account

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Purple Briefcase is SUNY Broome's brand new career services platform. It is the sole place for employers to register and post opportunities with the ultimate goal recruiting (hiring) our students.

We purchased this software because it gives our faculty and staff the ability to create accounts and connect with and support their students through their career-journeys. So take a moment to register today! Visit our website (www.sunybroome.edu/careercenter), go to the Faculty/Staff Resources tab, and follow the instructions. Contact Gina Chase at chasegm@sunybroome.edu with any questions.

Also consider attending the various Professional Development opportunities available through the TRC this semester to get training on this versatile platform.

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds now available: Deadline October 6

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Funding for activities taking place between September 1, 2017 and December 31, 2017 is now available. These PDAP funds are accessible to both Faculty and Staff.

For funding consideration, please read through the information about the Professional Development Assistance Program (PDAP) on the Professional Development website:

(<https://www.sunybroome.edu/web/professional-development/assistance-program>). This site also contains the recently updated and approved forms that must be used for full consideration of your PDAP request.

PDAP applications should be sent to the secretary to the Chief Academic Officer (mail stop #55) by October 6, 2017.

The Professional Development Steering Committee will meet shortly after this date to act on the applications. Applications received after the October 6th deadline will be accepted in the unlikely event that funds are still available.

Please contact Jamie Heron-Starr (x5592) if you have any questions on the PDAP application procedure.

Sept. 28 campus festival to benefit Hurricane Harvey relief

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join the student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division for the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

Academic Coffee House: Entrepreneurship in the Classroom

September 27, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Entrepreneurship in the Classroom..How To Inspire Students to Have an Entrepreneurial Spirit

Join Dr. Francis Battisti, Executive Vice-President and Chief Academic Officer, in his monthly, campus-wide discussions about academic issues that impact the College. Coffee and Tea will be served.

When: Thursday, October 5th

Venue: Wales 203B

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Dr. Francis Battisti

Register: Register Here

Calling All Faculty and Staff: You have until Nov 4 to plan your VCF grant application!

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Image of a dollar bill

CASE District II is accepting Venture Capital Fund applications to create multi-institutional continuing education and networking opportunities. Grants of $500 to $3,500 will fund collaborative professional development initiatives between CASE member institutions, from roundtables, high-impact speakers, and mini-workshops to specialized training sessions and cross-institution networking groups of professionals.

To Apply: (1) Review previously successful applications at http://www.casetwo.org/awards\_and\_programs/case\_district\_ii\_venture\_capital\_fund/venture\_capital\_fund\_grant\_winners.html ; and (2) Begin the SUNY Broome grants planning process by notifying Director of Sponsored Programs, Shelli Cordisco (at cordiscosl@sunybroome.edu), of your intent to apply by Oct 16.

Tech roots, tech future: SUNY Broome breaks ground on the Calice Center

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome held a groundbreaking for the Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center on Sept. 21.

The Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center isn't just Mechanical Building 2.0.

Scheduled for completion in the summer of 2018, the $12.5 million project is nothing less than a total transformation of one of the oldest buildings on campus. Green energy, food science, advanced manufacturing and more – it's all there, courtesy of partnerships with an array of stakeholders.

Generations of SUNY Broome students attended classes in Mechanical Building, en route to future careers as engineers, technicians and more, SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm noted. Built in 1956, the building was sorely in need of an update. In fact, right up until renovation work began over the summer of 2017, alumni could visit the very lockers they used when attending class decades ago.

“While that’s great for nostalgia, it also demonstrates how badly renovations were needed,” Dr. Drumm reflected. “By their very nature, STEM fields train students for the technology and the careers of the future – and they need the classrooms and the lab space of the future to go with it.”

This project will achieve that goal. State-of-the-art classroom and laboratory space will include a high-tech soldering lab funded by Empire State Development, and an advanced manufacturing lab with its own computer control room and $900,000 worth of new equipment. There will be renovated drafting, surveying, soil mechanics, thermodynamics and fluid mechanics laboratories, as well as materials and metrology and welding labs and a clean room funded by SUNY 2020 with its own gowning room and air lock.

New fermentation and food processing laboratories will tap into the region’s robust food manufacturing industry. The Southern Tier is a major food hub for the entire state and food manufacturing is one of the region’s most significant industries, according to the state Department of Labor.

The food industry also supports a large number of jobs regionally and is a critical part of the region’s economic engine, noted Assemblyman Clifford Crouch, who attended the Sept. 21 groundbreaking ceremony and expressed his support of the project.

“This isn’t just a great idea; this is needed,” said Assemblywoman Donna Lupardo, who noted that the project represented a “great connecting of the dots” linking technology, education and the region’s economic development initiatives.

Go green

President Kevin Drumm speaks at the groundbreaking for the new Calice Center.

The project will do more than update classroom and lab space. The renovation preserves the connector between the Mechanical and Business buildings, but it will be completely redone – and the center of a new, airy atrium that will serve as a prime student gathering space. Outside the building, pavers will create a plaza-type atmosphere with benches and planters. An additional entrance will be added to the side of the building facing the Natural Sciences Center, and the area outside this entrance will also be redone.

Even the building's heating and air-conditioning system will be high-tech, thanks to funding from the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA). A green-energy geothermal system will heat and cool the building, and solar collectors will boost power – reducing the college's carbon footprint. Once on line, this new system will save an estimated $200,000 to $300,000 annually in energy costs, and avoid sending 135 metric tons of greenhouse gas emissions into the atmosphere each year. There's an educational component, too: NYSERDA is also funding the creation of a sustainability sandbox, a learning laboratory for students who are also training for careers in green energy.

The only downside: The college's popular Quad will remain inaccessible until next year as the 36 geothermal wells are installed and connected to the geothermal system. Don't worry, though; the grassy green will be back to its usual state after completion, Dr. Drumm noted.

Funding sources for the $12.5 million project include $2.8 million from SUNY 2020 funding, which includes the clean room; $1 million from NYSERDA for the geothermal system and the sustainability sandbox program; $750,000 from Broome County; $4.15 million from SUNY Capital funds and $500,000 from Empire State Development.

The Broome Community College Foundation is contributing $3.4 million to the project. This funding was made due to the historic $11 million estate gift in 2014 from the late Emil Calice. (You'll read more about him below.)

The architect behind the project is Passero Associates of Rochester, while McFarland Johnson of Binghamton is the engineer and LeChase Construction Services of Binghamton the construction management firm. Streeter Associates Inc. of Elmira is the general contractor, while Postler & Jaeckle of Endicott is the HVAC contractor, Petcosky & Sons Plumbing & Heating of Vestal is the plumbing contractor and Nelcorp Electrical Contracting of Endwell the electrical contractor.

Executive Vice President Francis Battisti speaks at the Sept. 21 groundbreaking of the new Calice center

Tech roots

The Mechanical Building has long been the home of SUNY Broome's Engineering Tech programs, among the first to begin when the college was established in 1946, noted Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Francis Battisti. The programs are deeply entwined with the college's history and mission, from early nicknames – State Tech and then Broome Tech – to the original mascot (the Technicat) and the first student newspaper, Tech Talk.

The focus on technology makes sense when you consider the times: just after the end of World War II, when young people headed to college in great numbers, thanks to the G.I. Bill, and the heyday of Big Blue and the industrial era.

Technology is just as critical today, although vastly changed. Manufacturing relies heavily on computers and computer programming, and the smartphone in your hand can do far more in less time than the massive mainframes that once filled the Business Building basement, Dr. Battisti reflected.

Graduates with STEM degrees remain in high demand, including locally.

“There are actually more companies in the region looking for people with technical degrees than students in our programs. These are programs that lead to real jobs, often just after graduation,” Dr. Battisti said. The new Calice Center will make the college’s STEM programs more competitive and rewarding for students, he added.

Officials use the ceremonial shovels at the Sept. 21 groundbreaking for the Calice center.

About the new name

For all its benefits, the project has left some in the campus community wondering: Why the name change? And who are Paul, Mary and Mildred?

Emil Calice, who served during World War II with his brothers, spent his career with IBM. He never attended SUNY Broome himself, although several of his and Barton’s relatives went on to graduate from the college.

The career IBMer’s decision to make a massive estate gift – totaling more than $11 million – to the Broome Community College Foundation came as an utter surprise. Not only the largest philanthropic gift in the college’s history, the donation was the largest ever presented by an individual to a SUNY community college, noted Ken Kidder, president of the BCC Foundation’s Board of Directors.

Emil Calice and Mildred Barton

The gift has been truly transformational. Every year, the Foundation awards Calice Scholarships to 80 students, allowing them to pursue their educational dreams – a goal close to the heart of Mr. Calice, who had attended classes in several colleges from the time of his military service. In addition to scholarships, his gift also included the possibility of funding a building – provided that the building was named after Paul and Mary Calice, and Mildred Barton.

Paul and Mary Calice were Emil's parents, Italian immigrants whose story mirrors that of so many Americans: hard-working, family-oriented and self-sacrificing. They started their American lives in Michigan, where Emil was born. Fearing that her sons would end up working in the mines, Mary Calice raised what money she could by doing laundry and taking in boarders, and the family eventually saved enough money to remake their lives in Binghamton. The Calices ran a corner store on Susquehanna Street and raised their family. Five of their sons served in World War II, including Emil, who lost his brother James in the war.

Emil Calice started at IBM before the war, and people from the company kept in touch with him during his 2 ½ years in the service. One of them was Millie Barton, who worked at IBM during those years to further the war effort. Millie, who was Emil's companion in her later years, was a passionate naturalist and gardener, as well as a philanthropist who donated to many charities. The Binghamton Zoo at Ross Park was particularly close to her heart.

“Paul and Mary Calice and Mildred Barton helped make Emil Calice the man he was, and so it's fitting that he chose to keep their names alive forever through his gift,” Kidder reflected. “They exemplify the virtues of hard work and generosity, much as Mr. Calice did himself. Their story is also the story of the Binghamton area, and we're a part of that story now, too.”

Campus Directory for 2017-2018

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Click below to access the Campus Directory for 2017-2018.

Campus Directory 2017 18 \(PDF\)

Safety reminder: Campus speed limit is 20 mph

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please adhere to the campus speed limit of 20 miles per hour. Keep it safe in the Hornet's nest!

Stinger always abides by the speed limit when driving on campus, and you should too!

Sept. 28 Common Hour: Is the Two-Party System Obsolete?

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join faculty panelists Lee Whitted and John Sterlacci at 11 a.m. Sept. 28 in T-102 to discuss the future of the two-party system in the United States.

With the popularity of Bernie Sanders and the election of Donald Trump, people have grown tired of the two-party status quo. This may be the time for a viable third party in America.

Instant Decision Day with Binghamton University on Oct. 19

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Students interested in enrolling in Binghamton University's Harpur College of Liberal Arts & Sciences or the College of Community and Public Affairs may be eligible for instant admissions decisions on Thursday, Oct. 19, in the SUNY Broome Counseling Services Center in SS-210.

SUNY Broome students who have completed 45 credits and have a cumulative GPA of at least a 3.0 may apply online to BU by using the SUNY Application. Those students then can register for the event — which runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. — by calling 778-5210 or visiting Counseling Services' office in SS-210 to register. Please make your appointment before 4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16.

At the Instant Decision event, a BU rep can give an on-the-spot decision on acceptance. Students can also meet with BU staff and academic advisors.

Instant Decision Day 2017 \(PDF\)

Growing strong: From SUNY Broome to Cornell, and a successful farming career

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Headed out to the hillside, cows and calves alike bucked and gamboled with a joy peculiar to springtime – called, perhaps, by a grass so green that it seemed to glow on an overcast day.

SUNY Broome alumnus Lonny Schaefer made his way through the many operations of Catskill Cattle, his family farm, accompanied by his young daughters and a devoted cat. There's the calving pen that houses the cows and their young calves, the bull barn where massive black and red cattle snuffle, perhaps curious about the visitors by the fence. The new greenhouse, where workers transplanted young plants into fresh-turned soil.

Farming is a family business for the Schaefers, whose operations span five towns, three counties and two states. Lonny's great-grandparents purchased the main farm in Deposit in 1930, and he expects to see it become a centennial farm during his lifetime. Over the years, the Schaefers have added farms throughout the valley, with operations ranging from crops and dairy cows, to beef cattle and stone quarries.

"I truly believe every small town needs to have a farm because this is where they can buy food that they see every day," Schaefer said. "As long as people eat, this farm will be here."

Beef, veggies and more

Catskill Cattle specializes in high-quality registered and commercial cattle. Following best management practices, the cattle represent some of the best beef stock in the Northeast, according to the farm. The breeds are of similar types, and the mixes between their bloodlines improves meat quality, Schaefer explained. Whether cow or bull, ear tags provide a good deal of information, including that particular animal's ancestry.

A fun fact for our more urban readers: Beef cattle in the United States are typically solid colors to differentiate them from dairy cattle, save for a few outliers such as one spotted bull, placidly chewing his feed in the pen.

Lonny began working with cattle when he was 12 years old. Two years later, he began his own beef herd at the age of 14, independent of his family's dairy, on land that was considered more marginal for agriculture. He founded the Catskill Cattle Company in 2006, when he moved his 85-acre homestead; his cattle and hay operations span approximately 300 acres.

The farm has 100 head of cattle, and typically sells that same number in a year for beef, as well as selling registered bulls for breeding. The farm also sells other meats, fresh fruit and vegetables – about 60 different varieties, as well as flowers and even jams and pies in their retail store.

You can also find the farm's beef at the local Big M, as well as Down to Earth Whole Foods in the Endicott area and the Binghamton Regional Farmers Market. Catskill Cattle is also a custom grower for chefs downstate, although most of the meat and produce stays local – feeding the Deposit community.

"People have started to care about where their food comes from," Schaefer said.

From SUNY Broome to Cornell

As a member of a farming family, Schaefer's future career may have seemed predetermined, at least in part. But when it came time to go to college, he wasn't sure what path to take.

Lonny started at Morrisville State College, where he majored in furniture design, but didn't have the passion to pursue a future career as a cabinet maker. He took a few classes at SUNY Oneonta. Then it was off to the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry and Syracuse University – he took classes at both campuses — but illness forced him to take time off from his education.

Back on his feet, he enrolled in a few classes at SUNY Broome, intending on returning to SU. Instead, he ended up staying, earning a degree in Marketing, Management and Sales.

“Broome was very welcoming. I very easily found groups of people I got along with because Broome has such a variety of people,” he said. “Some of my closest friends in my life are those I met at Broome.”

With the encouragement of his advisor, Professor Mid Semple, he then applied to transfer to Cornell University's School of Agriculture and Life Sciences – and was accepted. His experience at SUNY Broome prepared him well for the Ivy League, he said. Most of his credits transferred, allowing him to enter Cornell as a junior. The courses he took at SUNY Broome also proved highly useful for his future farm, such as statistics and business math.

“What Broome offered – I think it presented students with a little more reality, that these are the skills you need. Broome prepared you to get ready to go to work,” he reflected. “I know at Cornell that some of my friends wouldn't get the jobs they wanted; it's a different experience.”

At Cornell, he majored in Applied Economics and Management, and took electives in such subjects as livestock nutrition to prepare for his future path. He also played football and joined the AGR fraternity, whose business network proved even more useful in some ways than an Ivy League degree.

Shortly after graduating from Cornell, the Schaefer family had the opportunity to purchase the current home of the Catskill Cattle Company, enabling Lonny to start on his enterprise.

Through the years, the 35-year-old has accumulated multiple honors. Currently the president of the Delaware County Farm Bureau, Schaefer won the New York State Young Farmer and Rancher Achievement Award in 2011 and the New York Farm Bureau Discussion Meet contest in 2015, and was the Broome County director of the New York Beef Producers Association in 2010. He also sits on the town board.

Stewards of the land

Ducking into the farm's greenhouse, Schaefer offers a friendly greeting to the young workers there – some of them former SUNY Broome students. The sizable space with its hooped roof replaces an older facility, felled by 40 inches of snow in last March's historic farm. And like the farm as a whole, it's set up with expansion in mind.

"This is very much a plan-ahead business," Schaefer explained.

While farming might seem an old-fashioned enterprise to urban dwellers, the field has gone high-tech – and Schaefer eagerly embraces what technology can offer to his business. Satellite imagery helps him map fields and plot acreage, while drones help control fungus and mold. He also plans on using drones to spray crops for the farm's produce operation – a real time-saver, he said.

Technology aside, as a future-oriented business farming is about more than the bottom line. It deals with the basic processes of life – food, nutrition – and the health of the land that supports these processes. With that in mind, the farm has been looking at reducing its carbon footprint and reducing potential negative impacts on the environment.

The farm has adopted green practices – reducing tillage, using trickle-tape irrigation and biodegradable mulch, keeping cattle out of the water and planting cover crops to reduce drainage, among other measures.

"The impact of my farm on the environment is very important. We take care to be good stewards of the land," he said.

Focus on Accomplishments: Financial Aid Director recognized for efforts

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Director of Financial Aid Laura Hodel received special recognition at the recent Student Information & Campus Administration Systems (SICAS) conference for her collaboration with SICAS on the Excelsior project.

Hodel went the extra mile throughout the spring and summer to ensure the College disseminated accurate and timely information on the program — in turn ensuring that the maximum number of students had an opportunity to become eligible for the Excelsior Scholarship Program.

Congratulations, Laura!

Learn about invisible disabilities on Oct. 19

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Do you or someone you care about have an invisible disability? Attend an eye-opening session with invisible disability hero Christina Irene and gain coping strategies, support tips, community, and visibility. The event runs from 11 a.m. to noon Thursday, October 19, in Wales 203B.

How to help: Empire State Relief and Recovery Effort for Puerto Rico

September 26, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Gov. Andrew Cuomo has kicked off the Empire State Relief and Recovery Effort for Puerto Rico, and donations are being accepted locally.

Drop off goods for donation between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. at the Southern Tier Binghamton Armory, located at 85 West End Avenue in Binghamton.

Only the following items are being accepted for donation:

- batteries
- flashlights
- portable lanterns
- diapers
- baby wipes
- cases of water

- feminine hygiene products

All items must be unopened and in their original packaging.

A full list of charitable organizations for financial contributions is available on ny.gov/PuertoRico.

September 2017 Facilities Update

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Click the following PDF for the September 2017 facilities update.

Facilities Update September 2017 \(PDF\)

Focus on Facilities Improvements logo

SUNY Broome 2017-2018 Budget Forecast

September 25, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Finances

Click the following PDF for the SUNY Broome 2017-2018 budget forecast, as of Aug. 31, 2017.

Budget And Finance Report September 2017 \(PDF\)

Focus on Finances logo

A meow of thanks: Public Safety Officer rescues kitten

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome's Office of Public Safety doesn't just safeguard the two-legged denizens of campus.

When a kitten was found in a campus parking lot, Public Safety sprung into action. Linda Bennett and Terry Marion were on the scene, and were joined by Officer Marie Finelli. The kitten had crawled into the car's engine compartment and refused to come out. Officer Finelli crawled under the car and coaxed the tiny feline out to safety.

For now, the furry friend is at the public safety office until she goes to her purr-ever home. Great job, Officer Finelli!

Campus citizens: Please be on the lookout for any more stray kittens, in case there's a litter nearby. If you see anything suspicious (such as someone dropping off animals), please contact the Office of Public Safety.

On-campus construction activities for the week of Sept. 25

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The following construction activities are planned for the week of Sept. 25, 2017. Please pay attention to and abide by all construction signage in these areas.

- Asbestos removal and abatement will continue on the first floor of the Mechanical Building. Air tests on the second floor were negative so the second floor has been cleared. We anticipate work being completed on the first floor by the end of the week.
- Rebar and excavation inspection should occur on Monday so that the concrete pour/placement (for the new Connector) can begin on Tuesday.
- Looping and grouting (of the wells) will continue in the geothermal well field.
- Framing of the new exterior wall (for the new Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center) has begun. Removal of the old exterior wall may begin this week.
- Field measurements for steel will take place in the Business Building. There may be some very minor disruptions to classes in the Business Building as these measurements take place.

As always, if anyone has any questions, please contact David Ligeikis at 765-9710.

Fire drills: What to know

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Fire drills will soon be happening. There are a few things to remember:

- 1) Please exit the building as soon as the alarm sounds. DO NOT attempt to finish the class.
- 2) Please close your room door.
- 3) Please exit the building and have your students move away from the building.
- 4) An officer will need to walk through the building to make sure that all of the doors, audible/visual alarms, and any other related items have operated correctly and make sure everyone has exited the building.
- 5) The sooner the building is cleared, the sooner everyone gets back inside.
- 6) DO NOT go back into the building until you have been told to do so.

We are also required to take a head count and make sure everyone has exited the building. So, if you ask a question, you'll know why we don't answer (we're counting!)

If you have any questions regarding procedures, please consult the Emergency Response Guide.

*** Remember, we are REQUIRED by New York State Law to perform fire drills throughout the year. Your assistance is greatly appreciated in accomplishing this.

Image of a fire truck and firefighting gear

SUNY Broome Dining Hall to celebrate Superfoods this week

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Superfoods
Nutrient rich foods especially beneficial for health and well-being

DARK GREEN, LEAFY VEGETABLES
Dark green, leafy veggies can aid in strengthening the immune system, preventing cancer, improving blood circulation, lowering cholesterol, increasing energy, and even improving liver, kidney, and digestive function. Not lacking in variety, this versatile vegetable group includes kale, arugula, collard greens, spinach, Swiss chard, and more. Packed with phytochemicals and high levels of iron, potassium, calcium, magnesium, and fiber, they are also an excellent source of vitamins A, C, E, and K.

AMERICAN DINING CREATIONS

Superfoods
Nutrient rich foods especially beneficial for health and well-being

DARK GREEN, LEAFY VEGETABLES
Dark green, leafy veggies can aid in strengthening the immune system, preventing cancer, improving blood circulation, lowering cholesterol, increasing energy, and even improving liver, kidney, and digestive function. Not lacking in variety, this versatile vegetable group includes kale, arugula, collard greens, spinach, Swiss chard, and more. Packed with phytochemicals and high levels of iron, potassium, calcium, magnesium, and fiber, they are also an excellent source of vitamins A, C, E, and K.

AMERICAN DINING CREATIONS

American Dining Creations will be kicking off a promotion this week celebrating Superfoods! The Dining Hall will be featuring recipes throughout the year that highlight healthy ingredients used on its stations, and promote not only variety in the café, but health and wellness among the student body.

This week, they will be featuring dark leafy greens, with recipes like a Grilled Chicken and Strawberry Salad, Southwestern Chicken and Kale Salad, and Turkey Spinach Avocado Wrap.

They'll also be supporting the promotion with marketing on our focal point display, signage on our stations, a YouTube video of our Corporate Chef and Corporate Nutritionist, and a smoothie demo by our own Chef Peter on Wednesday in the Student Center Lobby.

Superfoods - Dark, Leafy Greens

 <https://youtube.com/watch?v=UvRqU3msWBI>

SUNY OER Services Showcase Webinar

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Photo of a hand using a computer mouse

Join SUNY OER Services for the inaugural SOS Showcase Webinar, the first in a regular series to focus on open educational projects and resources in our system. This episode will relay information about the current statewide initiative fostering the expansion of OER in association with the Excelsior Scholarship.

Topic: SUNY OER Services Showcase Webinar – NYS OER Funding Initiative

Date: Friday, September 29, 2017

Time: 1:00-2:00PM (EST)

Access Link: <https://zoom.us/j/5866318807>

SUNY has a strong history of openness and instructional innovation, including the use of Open Educational Resources (OER) to provide measurable impact on student success.

This year invites a large scale-up of OER thanks to the Excelsior Scholarship, which includes in its 2017-18 funding “$8 million to provide open educational resources, including e-books, to students at SUNY and CUNY colleges to help defray the prohibitive cost of textbooks.”

We hope you will join us on September 29 to learn more about how our campuses are making textbooks more accessible and more affordable, and how you can participate in the effort.

Upcoming Professional Development Events

September 25, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professional Development logo

Entrepreneurship in the Classroom..How To Inspire Students to Have an Entrepreneurial Spirit

Join Dr. Francis Battisti, Executive Vice-President and Chief Academic Officer, in his monthly, campus-wide discussions about academic issues that impact the College. Coffee and Tea will be served.

When: Thursday, October 5th

Venue: Wales 203B

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Dr. Francis Battisti

Register: Register Here

Monkey Around with Copyright

Join Paul Bond from the SUNY Broome Library for an interactive discussion of the basics of copyright and how they apply to you, your students, and your classroom. And find out what a monkey has to do with it.

When: Friday, October 6th

Venue: TRC Conf Room

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm

Presenter: Paul Bond

Register: Register Here

Holla at Dr. Carol on Sept. 27

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Express yourself! Dr. Carol Ross, Vice President for Student Development and Chief Diversity Officer, wants to hear from you — happy thoughts, concerns or challenges as you start the semester.

The event runs from 12 to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27, in the Student Center.

Wine and Cheese Gathering on Oct. 3

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join your colleagues to celebrate another successful start to the new academic year with our annual Wine & Cheese gathering from 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3, in Decker 201, the Klee Room and patio area.

Meet and Greet with Dr. Carol Ross on Sept. 29

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us from 1 to 3 p.m. September 29 in the Administration Suite for a Meet & Greet with Dr. Carol Ross, SUNY Broome's new Vice President of Economic & Student Development and Chief Diversity Officer.

In the Community: Free community dinner on Sept. 30

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Nimmonsburg United Methodist Church is holding a free community dinner for anyone who would like to attend from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday, September 30.

The church is located across the street from campus, next to GHS Credit Union.

They will be serving their free community dinners on the last Saturday of each month from 5 to 7 p.m. Mark your calendars!

Sept. 28 campus festival to benefit Hurricane Harvey relief

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join the student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division for the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

STUDENT PROGRAM CLUBS FROM SUNY BROOME'S BUSINESS
& PROFESSIONAL STUDIES DIVISION INVITE YOU TO

HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF FESTIVAL

SEPTEMBER
THURSDAY
28

SUNY
BROOME
CAMPUS

• Games & Activities • Entertainment • Live Magician • Photo Booth •
Corn Hole • $20 BBQ Chicken Lunch (To Go) • Cotton Candy • Popcorn
• Hamburgers • Hotdogs •

#Hornets4Houston

All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

For more information please visit:
Hornets4Houston.org
sunysb.org/sunysb/hornets4houston.edu

National Suicide Awareness Month: Pete's Story on Sept. 28

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

September is Suicide Prevention Awareness Month. For the fourth year in a row, SUNY Broome will present “Pete’s Story,” an intimate presentation and discussion about a young man whose struggle with bipolar disorder led him to take his own life.

The presentation runs from 11 to 11:50 a.m. September 28 in Decker 201.

Joel and Robin Vermaat are life-long residents of the Southern Tier. Their son Peter and daughter Jennifer are graduates of Chenango Forks and both attended SUNY Broome. Their primary goal in presenting Pete’s Story is to provide a unique opportunity to learn about bipolar disorder and the stigma of mental illness by introducing the audience to Pete, his life and his struggle. It is their hope that Pete’s Story will raise awareness and equip others should they ever find themselves, a friend or a family member in harm’s way.

If you have any questions and or concerns, please contact Melissa Martin at 778-5186.

The Monday Poem: 'Post-Factual Love Poem' by Paul Guest

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Monday Poem is brought to you by Professor Jim Gormley of the English Department. Enjoy!

Post-Factual Love Poem

Paul Guest

I'm thinking of the boiling sea and the dream in which all the fish were singing.
I want to wake up with my heart not aching like death, but I am always falling in to terror. I'm a good person.
I grieve to appropriate degrees.
I mourn this season. This moment.
I mourn for the polar bear drifting out of history on a wedge of melting ice.
For the doughnut shop which reached an end yesterday, after decades and decades.

I'm thinking of the light at dawn. Of the woman in Alabama who ordered six songbirds from a catalog because she was lonely. Or heartbroken. I'm thinking of the four that came dead in the box, mangled.
Of the two that are missing. I want to tell you that they were spotted in the humid air
winging above a mall.
I want to tell you a story about the time leaves fell from the trees all at once. I am thinking of cataclysm.
More than anything, I want to tell you this. I want to disappear in the night. I want the night to vanish from memory.
I want to tell you how this happened.

About This Poem

“I wanted to write a love poem about this nightmarish era. I think I was unsure if it was still possible. Or if it mattered. I was interested in the direct intimacy of the voice, in its inherent drama. And a local doughnut shop really did close after forty-seven years.”

—Paul Guest

Paul Guest is the author of My Index of Slightly Horrifying Knowledge (Ecco, 2008). He teaches in the Creative Writing Program at the University of Virginia and lives in Charlottesville.

Sept. 26 Public Deliberation: Equality and Justice for all

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Come and engage in a public deliberation on “Equality and Justice for All” from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26, on Decker 117.

The deliberation process has participants engage with tough ideas by discussing various pros and cons rather than simply debating a point to “win.” Work together toward creating potential solutions.

Social Anxiety and Depression Counseling Group to meet starting Oct. 3

September 24, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Beginning Tuesday, October 3, from 11 to 11:50 a.m., a counseling group for social anxiety and depression will meet for 8 weeks through November 21 in Student Services Building Room 214. This educational and therapeutic process will address the symptoms and underlying issues of social anxiety and depression.

The organizer will be especially sensitive to the needs for emotional safety in order to create an environment that invites participants to tell their personal stories and address their personal concerns.

Professor Rossi honored for her commitment to women in politics

September 22, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Women's Suffrage in New York, SUNY Broome Professor Margherita Rossi was honored for her service and commitment to women in politics at the Celebration of Strong Women in Broome County event on Thursday, August 31.

The honor was given in recognition of Professor Rossi's notable contribution to local politics and continuing efforts supporting women and politics. Professor Rossi, Chair of Psychology and Human Services, was recognized as this year's honoree representing the best in strength, leadership and excellence.

She was the obvious choice for this award due to her notable and dedicated service to women and the community, advocating for those without a voice as well as promoting leadership and representation of and by women. Humble and hardworking, Margherita is truly one of the best examples of a strong woman who is dedicated to public service in this community.

Professor Rossi is the founding member of the SUNY Broome Women's Institute, which has gained recognition on campus and in the community for continuing the promotion of issues important to women.

Call for Presenters: Ethics Conference on March 23

September 22, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Ninth Interdisciplinary Conference on Applied Ethics will be held on Friday, March 23, 2018 from 3 to 8 p.m. on the SUNY Broome campus. This year's theme is "The Ethics of Education."

Faculty and staff who have potential topics they may wish to present are encouraged to contact Tim Skinner at skinnertj@sunybroome.edu or Kim McLain at mclainkb@sunybroome.edu

This conference is free of charge to faculty, staff and students. Dinner provided. Registration and further details to follow.

Follow our Facebook page at: <https://www.facebook.com/2018-SUNY-Broomes-9th-Annual-Interdisciplinary-Ethics-Conference-110672842331622/>

Business Club Reaper's Revenge Ticket Sale Fundraiser

September 22, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Purchase a General Admission ticket to Reapers Revenge Haunted Hayride in Scranton, Pa., to support the Business Club at SUNY Broome!

The price is $45, with a $5 discount on each additional ticket purchased. Your General Admission ticket will allow you to visit Reaper's Revenge on any open day this season and skip the ticket line.

Order your ticket by Wednesday for Thursday pickup. The sale runs September 22 through November 1. To order, contact a Business Club member, or email Chris Robbins, robbinscl@acad.sunybroome.edu, or Professor Erin Frye, fryeey@sunybroome.edu.

Make an appointment: SUNY Cortland transfer guide returns to campus

September 22, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Looking to transfer to SUNY Cortland? Make sure you pay Greg Diller a visit early in your academic career.

Diller is a transfer mobility advisor and he can help you with all things Red Dragon, from course recommendations here at SUNY Broome to financial aid, student life and support services. Considering that SUNY Broome is Cortland's second or third largest feeder school, it's an important service.

"We're filling up fast," he said on his second official day back on campus.

His goal is to forge connections early on with prospective transfer students to make their transition as pain-free as possible. Popular majors of inquiring students include early childhood education, sports management, physical education and exercise science, although there is a wide variety across the board.

Diller began his outreach on campus in the Spring 2017 semester, during which he met with 52 students. He hopes to continue on this trajectory and meet with more prospective SUNY Cortland students this semester.

He is on campus weekly on alternating Mondays and Tuesdays, although he's willing to add dates and availability in accordance with student demand. You can make an appointment at cortland.edu/transfer-path or email him at Gregory.diller@cortland.edu for more information.

All appointments will be at SUNY Broome in the Academic Advising Department located in SS-210. Diller will ask you to fill out a form before your appointment takes place, so he can more adequately address your needs. Make sure to bring a copy of your DegreeWorks, so he can see your courses.

You don't have to be committed to SUNY Cortland to make an appointment, or on the verge of graduation. Even if you have a mild interest, it's always good to pay a visit and explore your options – and the earlier, the better.

Entering the field: A veteran prepares for a career in dental hygiene

September 22, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Adam Secor

When it comes to creating a meaningful life, balance is often a critical ingredient.

Often, but not always. When he was a student at Vernon's Verona Sherrill High School, Adam Secor — pondering a healthcare career — shadowed a surgeon. The latter's workday started at 7 a.m. and continued well into the night. Secor asked if this was a typical day; "pretty much" was the reply.

Scratch surgeon off the career possibilities list. "I wanted to have a family. I didn't want to be at work 15 hours a day," Secor explained.

After graduating from high school, Secor enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps, where he served in the infantry until 2010 with tours in Bahrain, Iraq and Afghanistan.

The seed of an idea – a career in healthcare – was still planted in Secor’s mind. A trip to a dentist’s office inspired him to look into dentistry as an option, and he liked what he saw. After being honorably discharged, Secor enrolled at Binghamton University, where he earned a degree in biology.

Afterward, he considered dental school – but it seemed a deep commitment, both financially and in terms of time.

“When I graduated from BU, I was working at UPS and not going anywhere, so I decided to go back to school and do dental hygiene,” said Secor, who lives in Endicott with his wife and two children.

Secor found a home in his new field, and will graduate in May 2018. Male students aren’t common in dental hygiene, but that’s never held him back. “Personally, I don’t notice the difference,” he said of being a non-traditional student.

Dental Hygiene students receive hands-on experience in the program’s state-of-the-art clinic in the Decker Health Sciences Building, which serves patients at low or no cost. They will also do a rotation at a local assisted living facility.

“I’m really pleased to be here. The more I learn, the more I like what I’m doing,” Secor reflected. “Help is there when you need it. They want you to succeed.”

Green Dot program to hold interactive event on Sept. 26

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join SUNY Broome's Green Dot initiative for an interactive tabling event from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sept. 26 in the Student Center Lobby.

Formed in partnership with the Crime Victims Assistance Center, the program seeks to prevent and address power-based personal violence, which uses power, control or intimidation to harm another individual.

Eye on the Arts: Sept. 22 concert to feature SUNY Broome faculty

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Gerald Grahame

After teaching 30 years in one place, it might be time for a swan song, and maybe some arias and duets too. The Music Program of SUNY Broome will present In Recital with Tenor Gerald Grahame and Friends at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 22, at the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre.

Noted pianist Margaret Reitz will accompany the recital. Featured will be arias and selections from the realm of oratorio such as Handel's Jephtha and excerpts from Schubert's Die Schöne Müllerin, as well songs by Samuel Barber and music from Manon Lescaut by Giacomo Puccini. Mr. Grahame will also perform duets from Bizet's Les Pêcheurs de Perles with soprano Brenda Dawe and Puccini's La Bohème with baritone Randolph Messing.

A musician of many talents, Mr. Grahame is known as a gifted conductor and voice teacher, but is probably best known as a notable opera and concert singer. After completing his Bachelor's of Music Education at SUNY Fredonia, he received his Master's of Music in Opera Performance from Binghamton University in conjunction with the Tri-Cities Opera, a company with which he has performed more than 20 lead roles, including Rodolfo in La Bohème, Alfred in Die Fledermaus, the title role in Faust, Edgardo in Lucia di Lammermoor, as well as the Interrogator in the world premiere of Ezra Laderman's Galileo Galilei. When he debuted with the New York City Opera, he was the recipient of that company's Rita and Herbert Z. Gold Debut Award. He went on to sing other roles with the company including Count Almaviva in Il Barbiere di Siviglia, Alfred in Die Fledermaus, and Tamino in The Magic Flute under the baton of Julius Rudel. Since then, Mr. Grahame has appeared with orchestras and opera companies throughout the country including the Binghamton Philharmonic, the Utica Symphony, the Syracuse Symphony, the Virginia Symphony, the Rochester Oratorio Society, and the National Symphony under Eric Leinsdorf, as well as the Syracuse Opera, the Tulsa Opera, the Cleveland Opera, Opera/Omaha, the Lake George Opera Festival and the Opera Company of Boston with Sarah Caldwell conducting.

Currently, Mr. Grahame is an adjunct music instructor at SUNY Broome, where he retired after 26 years as a music professor teaching voice and other courses in addition to his duties as director of the College Choir and Chamber Singers.

Pej Reitz

Pej Reitz, pianist, is a native of the Binghamton area. She received her Bachelor's and Master's of Music degrees in piano performance with accompanying emphasis. She attended Boston University, New England Conservatory and Binghamton University. She has studied piano with Jean Casadesus, Victor Rosenbaum, Seymour Fink and Walter Ponce and accompanied with Allen Rogers. She has accompanied throughout the United States, in England, South America, Spain, and Austria. She was the winner of the Artistic Ambassadors Program by the United States Information Agency in partnership with the John F. Kennedy Center for the performing arts. She is currently on the faculty at Binghamton University, Ithaca College School of Music and SUNY Broome.

General admission for the concert is $10 for adults with proceeds going to the BCC Foundation to support scholarships for applied voice students. The concert is free for students.

Attention students: Last call for Fall 2017 book vouchers on Sept. 22

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please note: Friday, Sept. 22, will be the last day that book vouchers are available for qualified students for the Fall 2017 semester.

Sept. 28 Common Hour: Is the Two-Party System Obsolete?

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join faculty panelists Lee Whitted and John Sterlacci at 11 a.m. Sept. 28 in T-102 to discuss the future of the two-party system in the United States.

With the popularity of Bernie Sanders and the election of Donald Trump, people have grown tired of the two-party status quo. This may be the time for a viable third party in America.

Vestal Town Historian Visits SUNY Broome Class

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome welcomed Vestal Town Historian Margaret Hadsell to campus on Tuesday, Sept. 19. Hadsell spoke with students in Anthropology 112 – Introduction to Archaeology about historic preservation and local efforts to protect historic buildings.

This semester, students in Anth 112 are participating in SUNY's Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) Program. Broome students will work with architecture students in San Luis Potosi, Mexico, and decide how to re-purpose and reuse a historic space in Mexico. Students At SUNY Broome will examine how the use of space changes over time and will work on environmental impact statements to learn more about cultural resources.

Focus on Wellness: Sitting less yields big benefits

September 21, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

Check out this article from Cleveland Clinic Wellness and get moving:

Get up, stand up: Sitting less yields big benefits.

Standing at a desk

We don't need to extol the extraordinary health benefits of walking, jogging, or swimming for exercise...because we do so all the time! But apart from exercising more, simply sitting less can yield benefits. In a recent study, office workers who were sedentary for about 9.4 hours a day were counseled to reduce their sitting time, and their activity was tracked for a year. At the beginning of the study, people who sat for just 21 minutes less a day improved their blood sugar levels. By the end of the year, people backslid and were only sitting an average of 8 minutes less, but even this small change led to better results on a blood test related to heart-disease risk. Those who sat less also maintained muscle mass in their legs, whereas people who didn't change their habits lost muscle. So wherever you spend your days and evenings, get ready to get up, stand up, and move more! Doing housework and yardwork, meeting a friend for a walk instead of for coffee, and standing at the counter to write emails or pay bills are all better for your body than sitting. At work, take frequent tea, coffee, or stretching breaks, and instead of holding meetings in a conference room or an office, stand or walk and talk if possible. If you have children, the opportunities for moving more are endless: play outside, walk or bike with them to school, take post-dinner family strolls. Besides reaping health benefits, you'll also be setting a great example.

SUNY Broome breaks ground on the Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center

September 21, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome broke ground Sept. 21 on the new Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center, located at the heart of its Dickinson campus.

The $12.5 million project will transform the Mechanical Building, one of the first to be built on campus in 1956, and connect it with the adjacent Business Building via an airy atrium.

“This project will turn one of the oldest buildings on campus into a state-of-the-art facility supporting advanced manufacturing in the region,” said SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm. “The Mechanical Building has long been home to our technical and scientific programs, and it’s critical to keep apace of technology. Not only does this project include significant classroom and laboratory renovations, but all-new facilities such as fermentation and food science labs and a clean room that will help our students meet the needs of the region's employers.”

State-of-the-art classroom and laboratory space will include:

- A high-tech soldering lab funded by Empire State Development
- Renovated drafting, surveying, soil mechanics, thermodynamics and fluid mechanics laboratories, as well as materials and metrology and welding labs
- An advanced manufacturing lab with its own computer control room, and $900,000 worth of new equipment
- A clean room funded by SUNY 2020 with its own gowning room and air lock
- New fermentation and food processing laboratories
- A green-energy geothermal system that will heat and cool the building, along with solar collectors. In addition to heating and cooling the building, this system also will provide education opportunities for students through a sustainable energy learning lab and control room. This portion of the project is funded by NYSERDA.

The current walkway between the Mechanical and Business buildings will be preserved as part of an attractive atrium that will join the buildings and serve as a student gathering space. Outside the building, pavers will create a plaza-type atmosphere with benches and planters. An additional entrance will be added to the side of the building facing the Natural Sciences Center, and the area outside this entrance will also be redone.

“This project will make SUNY Broome’s academic programs in STEM fields more competitive and increase the quality of education for our students,” said SUNY Broome Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Francis Battisti. “Our students, after all, are training for the careers of the future and they need classroom and lab space to address their needs.”

Funding sources for the $12.5 million project include $2.8 million from SUNY 2020 funding, which includes the clean room; $1 million from NYSERDA for the geothermal system and the sustainability sandbox program; $750,000 from Broome County; $4.15 million from SUNY Capital funds and $500,000 from Empire State Development.

The Broome Community College Foundation is contributing $3.4 million to the project. This funding was made due to the historic $11 million estate gift in 2014 from the late Emil Calice, who stipulated that any building that received funding from his estate would bear the names of his parents, Paul and Mary Calice, as well as Mildred Barton.

Italian immigrants, Paul and Mary Calice ran a corner store in Binghamton. Mildred Barton, Emil Calice’s companion of many years, was a passionate naturalist and gardener, as well as a philanthropist. Emil Calice, who served during World War II with his brothers, spent his career with IBM. He never attended SUNY Broome himself, although several of his and Barton’s relatives went on to graduate from the college.

“Emil Calice and his incredible gift have already played a critical role for many of our students, funding essential scholarships,” said Ken Kidder, chair of the BCC Foundation. “The Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center will be another part of Mr. Calice’s profound impact on SUNY Broome. And how appropriate that someone who made his career in the technical realm would help future engineers and technicians follow their dreams.”

Work on the project began over the summer. Completion is estimated for August 2018, with the building opening for the Fall 2018 semester.

The architect behind the project is Passero Associates of Rochester, while McFarland Johnson of Binghamton is the engineer and LeChase Construction Services of Binghamton the construction management firm. Streeter Associates Inc. of Elmira is the general contractor, while Postler & Jaeckle of Endicott is the HVAC contractor, Petcosky & Sons Plumbing & Heating of Vestal is the plumbing contractor and Nelcorp Electrical Contracting of Endwell the electrical contractor.

Retirement reception on Sept. 22

September 20, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join us in celebrating the retirement of Connie Petrolle, Marianne Reynolds and Sandy Williams from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, September 22, in the Student Services Building Room 210.

Farewell Party logo

Job Opportunity: Student Assistant/Events Staff – Student Activities

September 20, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Assist the Student Activities department, vendors and Student Organizations in the preparation and execution of events.

Successful candidates will demonstrate strong organizational and interpersonal skills, as well as the ability to work collaboratively with others. Applicants should be punctual, dedicated, enthusiastic, and self-motivated. Ability to work late nights and weekends.

To be eligible for this position you must be able to attend a weekly staff meeting TBA.

Please begin the application process by filling out the below form:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSd6bNeid5sCeAjYwYQXP7\_IrGIetFOuPa6GqA-x1ex97rRkdw/viewform?usp=sf\_link

SUNY Broome's 3rd Annual Drag Show and Competition on Oct. 13

September 20, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome is hosting its third annual Drag Show and Student Competition on Oct. 13 in the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre.

Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and the show begins at 8 p.m. Join us for a night of adult entertainment with Katrina and the Girls in their Heroes and Villains act.

Tickets are $5 with student ID or $10 for faculty, staff and or community members. All proceeds will benefit the BC Center. There will be raffles and baskets to win as well!

Students: Interested in competing in drag at the show? Contact Melissa martin at 778-5210, in Student Services Room 210 or at martinmm2@sunybroome.edu by Oct. 9.

The event is sponsored by SUNY Broome's SWAG Group, the President's Task Force on Diversity and Inclusion, and BECA.

From the Desk of Dr. Battisti: Disruptive Student Guidelines

September 20, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Colleagues,

Last spring (2017), the Disruptive Student Guidelines were vetted by the Chairs and Deans, CAI, and Executive Council. These guidelines should be used as such:

“These optional guidelines for addressing disruptive behavior are available for faculty as a supporting mechanism as needed. Each faculty member has the latitude to determine how they will manage disruptive behavior in their own classroom.”

Please review the guidelines located at the link below and use them in situations where they are appropriate, while also working with your respective Chair and/or Dean. The Dean of Students, Scott Schuhert and Public Safety can also be consulted to navigate situations with students.

<http://www2.sunybroome.edu/dos/classroom-conduct/>

Please note: These guidelines are NOT intended to replace protocols in threatening or violent situations.

Best,

Francis L. Battisti, Ph.D.

Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer

‘What I’m meant to do’: Cortney finds her calling in Chemical Dependency Counseling

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Cortney Rowley never imagined that she would teach, let alone for 90 minutes at a time in front of a classroom. Graduating in May with a degree in Chemical Dependency Counseling, the Cooperstown native saw herself becoming primarily a counselor – one-on-one, or maybe small groups.

“About 30 days after graduation, I was hired at the Addiction Center of Broome County and there I have been using every single class I’ve had here,” she said.

She found her niche teaching addiction education to clients in recovery, adopting the engaging lecture style of her SUNY Broome professors. She still uses her textbooks, too, as well as some of the exercises she learned in her own classes.

Now pursuing her professional calling, she understands why SUNY Broome's Chemical Dependency Counseling program covers so many different aspects of practice, from ice-breakers and group counseling methods, to keeping clients engaged and self-care: She uses them all.

Prior to enrolling at SUNY Broome, Rowley spent eight years in the Army – and considers the 8 a.m. classes dreaded by so many fellow Hornets to be sleeping in.

“This was a huge career change for me. I was a rotary wing aircraft mechanic in the Army,” she said. “I went from working with helicopters to working with people.”

Like many who seek careers in addiction counseling, she has a personal connection to the issue and a deep desire to make a difference. While she moved to the Binghamton area to be closer to family, SUNY Broome proved more than just a convenient option; it offered a highly-rated program in the field, with professors and instructors who have significant experience outside the classroom.

“The hire rate out of this program was phenomenal. It has a way of getting people placed where they need to be,” she said.

During her time at SUNY Broome, she interned with ABLE, the Broome County Re-Entry Program that aids the paroled population, an experience she describes as “phenomenal.”

As an addictions counselor, Rowley not only inspires healthy behavior in her charges. She must model a healthy lifestyle herself – something she considers a benefit. By helping others heal, she also keeps herself whole.

“If I'm not healthy, how am I going to teach anyone how to be healthy? I can use these skills I'm teaching every single day,” she said. “At the end of the day, I believe it's okay if your job is good for you, and this is good for me. I know this is what I'm meant to do.”

Dr. Bill Altman Appointed to Plan National Psychology Teaching Summit

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Dr. Bill Altman, of SUNY Broome's Psychology & Human Services Department, has just been appointed by the American Psychological Association's Board of Educational Affairs (BEA) to the Steering Committee to plan the APA General Psychology Summit (GPS).

The committee has been charged with drafting a proposal that will identify the important issues that need to be addressed at the summit, as well as determining the summit's desired outcomes and program format. The Steering Committee will also be responsible for finding a site, identifying funding sources, and considering keynote speakers and working group leaders. In planning this summit, Dr. Altman will contribute to an effort that will have a major impact on the teaching of introductory psychology in the United States and abroad.

National Suicide Awareness Month: Pete's Story on Sept. 28

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

September is Suicide Prevention Awareness Month. For the fourth year in a row, SUNY Broome will present “Pete’s Story,” an intimate presentation and discussion about a young man whose struggle with bipolar disorder led him to take his own life.

The presentation runs from 11 to 11:50 a.m. September 28 in Decker 201.

Joel and Robin Vermaat are life-long residents of the Southern Tier. Their son Peter and daughter Jennifer are graduates of Chenango Forks and both attended SUNY Broome. Their primary goal in presenting Pete’s Story is to provide a unique opportunity to learn about bipolar disorder and the stigma of mental illness by introducing the audience to Pete, his life and his struggle. It is their hope that Pete’s Story will raise awareness and equip others should they ever find themselves, a friend or a family member in harm’s way.

If you have any questions and or concerns, please contact Melissa Martin at 778-5186.

Say farewell to Heather Darrow on Sept. 20

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join us in saying farewell to Heather Darrow, Staff Associate for Student Retention, as she embarks on her new position with Hobsons.

We will have cake and punch from 11 a.m. to noon in D-201 on Wednesday, September 20, 2017. Please stop by for refreshments and to offer your well wishes.

Farewell Party logo

On-campus construction activities for the week of Sept. 18

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The following construction activities are planned for the week of Sept. 18, 2017. Please pay attention to and abide by all construction signage in these areas.

- Repairs to the east end stairwell in the Student Services Building have been completed. The east entrance is once again open.
- Asbestos removal/abatement has been completed on the second floor of the old Mechanical Technology Building. Asbestos removal/abatement is now taking place on the first floor of the building.

- Looping and grouting of the wells in the Geothermal Well Field will continue for the next several weeks.
- Excavations on the east side of the connector (between the Business Building and the new Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center) will continue with foundation forms/rebar being constructed and a potential concrete pour taking place this Friday.
- Exterior wall demolition (of the old Mechanical Technology Building) may begin later this week.

Sept. 21 Common Hour: Mickey Mouse Monopoly

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Students and the faculty adviser from Phi Theta Kappa, the campus' international honor society, will offer "Mickey Mouse Monopoly" at 11 a.m. Sept. 21 in T-102, a panel discussion on the global power of Disney in shaping childhoods and a new generation of customers.

Panelists Brandon Gow, Leah Best, Orion Barber, James Gill and Professor I.J. Byrnes will discuss how Disney has expanded its empire and perhaps even colonized childhood.

Sept. 21 Common Hour: Point-Counterpoint

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join faculty presenters Scott Corley and Carla Michalak at 11 a.m. Sept. 21 in T-101 for Point-Counterpoint. Panelists with divergent points of view will discuss the most important current events of the day.

This Fridays Upcoming Professional Development Events: Seats Available!

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professional Development logo

Purple Briefcase Training: Connecting Students to Careers

The Applied Learning and Career Center has launched a brand new Career Services Management platform called Purple Briefcase. Purple Briefcase will connect students and alumni with employers and jobs, as well as provide an endless amount of resources. Faculty and staff will have the ability to use the platform to connect with their students and help them become career-ready. Please join us as we train and offer support to faculty and staff on how to use this important resource!

When: Friday, September, 22nd

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Gina Chase

Register: Register Here

Promotion and Appointment

Review the basics and essentials of the P & A process at SUNY Broome. Newly hired, full-time employees working under the FA contract at SUNY Broome enter and Appointment process, the goal, of which is to earn Continuing Appointment. In addition, these faculty members may apply for promotion or PD recognition increment as stipulated by the contract.

When: Friday, September, 22nd (2 seats available)

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Presenter: Dr. Suzanne Shepard

Register: Register Here

Blackboard Advanced: Ensemble

Ensemble Video is a powerful online video platform that can be used to enhance teaching and learning in online, blended and web-supplemented courses at SUNY Broome. Participants in this workshop will be given a private video library area to work in and will be shown how to upload video, create playlists and share their content through Blackboard and email.

When: Friday, September, 22nd

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm

Presenter: Carine Surdey

Register: Register Here

Green Dot program to hold Common Hour event on Sept. 21

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join SUNY Broome's Green Dot initiative for a Common Hour event at 11 a.m. Sept. 21 in Decker 201.

Formed in partnership with the Crime Victims Assistance Center, the program seeks to prevent and address power-based personal violence, which uses power, control or intimidation to harm another individual.

Participants in the program learn about the three D's of intervention:

- Direct, which involves directly interacting with the people involved in the situation
- Delegate, when a person recognizes a red dot situation and involves a second party to aid the intervention
- Distract, which creates a diversion to diffuse the attention of people in the situation away from the negative behavior.

Happy Rosh Hashana to our Jewish brothers and sisters

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Rosh Hashana begins at sunset on September 20 and ends at nightfall on September 22. According to the Jewish faith, Rosh Hashana is celebrated as the birthday of the universe and the day God created Adam and Eve. Jewish faith observances during this time include candle lighting, festive meals, sounding of the ram's horn in the mornings and desisting from creative works.

To learn more about Rosh Hashana, go to the following link: <http://www.chabad.org/holidays/JewishNewYear>

Celebrating the diverse community of SUNY Broome, Happy Rosh Hashana!

Posting Attendance – 2017 Fall Semester

September 19, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

An image of a clock

Please take attendance by the census date and be sure to post attendance on time. After you post your attendance, please remember that you need to continue taking attendance through the entire semester.

The due date for posting first attendance, for full term classes, is Wednesday, September 20, 2017, at 8 AM.

Department secretaries may use Argos to print class lists by subject to distribute to department faculty to be used for Attendance taking purposes.

It is important that attendance is posted accurately and on time. When attendance is not posted accurately, or on time, financial aid could be disbursed to students who should not be receiving it. If the attendance is posted after the deadline, after financial aid is disbursed, we cannot recover the funds from those students who should not have received it because of poor attendance.

Reporting official course attendance, including for the purpose of financial aid funding, is determined by a student's academic participation in the course.

Official course attendance is defined by any of the following activities:

- * Physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students
- * Submitting an academic assignment
- * Taking an exam, an interactive tutorial, or computer-assisted instruction
- * Attending a study group that is assigned by the institution
- * Participating in an online discussion about academic matters

* Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course

Official attendance does not include logging into an online class without active participation.

We will continue to use MyCollege to record attendance.

Retirement reception on Sept. 22

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join us in celebrating the retirement of Connie Petrolle, Marianne Reynolds and Sandy Williams from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, September 22, in the Student Services Building Room 210.

Farewell Party logo

Behind the Badge: SUNY Broome student's project aims to change perceptions about law enforcement

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

For his class project in Police Community Relations, Marquies Orr wanted to do something more than a report.

Orr, who graduated in May with a Criminal Justice degree, wanted to change minds – specifically the minds of people who regard police officers with suspicion and fear. Working with his instructor, Sgt. Sammy Davis of the Broome County Sheriff's Office, he helped organize a summertime event that intended to do just that.

Orr was inspired by the nationwide Coffee with a Cop initiative, which aims to break down divisions between law enforcement and the communities they serve. The problem with many such community events, however, is that they often target a demographic already familiar and comfortable with the local police department, Orr explained.

But the population who could benefit the most from a better relationship with law enforcement doesn't tend to attend such events. Many of them were told from the time they were children to distrust police; some may have been in trouble themselves. Breaking the vicious cycle of distrust and fear would require a different approach, Orr reasoned: No uniforms, no weapons – just a conversation with the fellow human beings behind the badge.

“We wanted them to come as a member of the community,” Orr explained. “I was targeting those who had issues with police officers. You can create a relationship with the community that way.”

That was the theme of the July 22 event, Meet the Person Behind the Badge, which featured a meet-and-greet session, open discussion and opportunities to partake in the same physical and reality-based training that police officers do. Orr, Sgt. Davis and Jessica Nejeschleba, a Binghamton University intern at the sheriff's office, worked to make the program a reality. Officers from the Broome County Sheriff's Office, the Binghamton, Vestal, Endicott and Cortland police departments, New York State Police at BU and Broome County Security attended the event at the Broome County Sheriff's Office.

Orr handed out flyers, trying to hit a population most in need of the chance to interact. His locations: The bus station in downtown Binghamton, the Department of Social Services and Susquehanna Street.

The event didn't draw the number of participants that Orr had hoped, likely due to its location in the Sheriff's Office. Such an event needs to be held in a safe zone for the security of participants, said Orr, adding that they're trying to determine another state building where a future event could be held.

Numbers aside, the event was a success in other ways. It provided the seed for future events that could potentially break down the divide between police and civilians, and gave Orr the chance to work with law enforcement.

The program – which was Orr's idea – was “fantastic,” said Sgt. Davis.

“During the community policing class, I'm trying to get the younger generation involved and be more appreciative of what law enforcement does,” he explained. “For me, having actually made contact with a student who was on the fence about law enforcement, it was a win.”

Orr is back at SUNY Broome, this time to pursue a degree in the Theater program. The Binghamton native hopes to become a decorated actor someday – “I'm a character,” he quipped with a broad smile – or, if that falls through, a defense attorney. Both a criminal justice and theater background might help with the latter aspiration, he said.

Faculty/Staff Needed for Kickball Game

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join the faculty/staff team for a game of kickball against the SUNY Broome students! The game will take place during the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival sponsored by the BPS division on Thursday, September 28. The game will be from 11 to 11:45 a.m. Participants are asked to donate a minimum $5 to the fundraiser. To sign up, please email Maureen Kollar at Kollarmk@sunybroome.edu or call X5648.

Say farewell to Heather Darrow on Sept. 20

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join us in saying farewell to Heather Darrow, Staff Associate for Student Retention, as she embarks on her new position with Hobsons.

We will have cake and punch from 11 a.m. to noon in D-201 on Wednesday, September 20, 2017. Please stop by for refreshments and to offer your well wishes.

Farewell Party logo

Sept. 26 Public Deliberation: Equality and Justice for all

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Come and engage in a public deliberation on “Equality and Justice for All” from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26, on Decker 117.

The deliberation process has participants engage with tough ideas by discussing various pros and cons rather than simply debating a point to “win.” Work together toward creating potential solutions.

Political Pizza Party: Learn how you can get involved in politics on Sept. 19

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Want to know how you can work for a political party, a political candidate or an elected official, or earn money by working on Election Day at a polling place?

Come to SUNY Broome's Titchener Hall 102 from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, to meet people from various political parties, the Board of Elections and elected officials.

Learn about opportunities to earn academic credit, and also learn how to join the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats while you enjoy some pizza and chat.

This event is sponsored by the Student Assembly, the History/Philosophy Department and the Garnar Center for Civic Engagement.

SUNY Broome Admissions Counselors attend the SUNYCap Orientation in Albany

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Admissions Team attended the 2017 State University of New York College Admissions Professionals (SUNYCAP) Orientation in Albany on September 7 and 8.

Over the two-day conference, our Admissions Team toured the SUNY building, shared travel tips, talked about recruitment strategies for upstate and in New York City territories, learned about ethics in Admissions, reviewed good principles and policies in higher education, and met members of the SUNY Admissions family, including the Executive Board. This was a great chance to develop a network of professional colleagues, and see how things work from the Albany side of Enrollment Services. Our Team returned home with fresh ideas and strategies, which they use to continue recruiting and supporting new cohorts of SUNY Broome students.

Vote: Student Assembly elections going on now

September 18, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Remember to vote for Student Assembly representatives here. Elections end Sept 21 at noon.

In the Community: ‘Bourbon, Beef & Brews’ to benefit the arts

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

September is National Bourbon Heritage Month. Northeastern Striping Corporation and the Broome County Arts Council will present Bourbon Beef & Brews to benefit the arts. This special evening of tasting will provide an opportunity to sample craft spirits that are distinctly unique, small batch and locally produced in the New York State Greater Southern Tier area.

The event will run from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Sept. 28 at the Binghamton Club, located at 83 Front St. in Binghamton.

Sample some mouthwatering beef with a variety of bourbon sauces, domestic cheeses & a bourbon ball dessert. Come ready to vote on the best bourbon and purchase your craft bourbon favorites or a bourbon basket creation. The event also will offer a taste of traditional Kentucky Bourbon spirits in our Kentucky Bourbon Tasting Room ($$), bourbon barrel ale, local craft beers and mood-setting music by Barb Fox's DJ Entertainment and Curt Osgood.

Participating Distilleries include: Cooperstown Distillery, Dragonfyre Distillery, Finger Lakes Distilling, French Distillers & Alchemists, Myers Farm Distillery, Old Home Distillers, Southern Tier Distillery & more including Black Bear Winery & Southern Tier Brewing.

Event Title Sponsors include the UHS Prep Program, with FE Jones Contracting as our Kentucky Bourbon Room Sponsor & Frederick J. Lacey, DMD, PLLC as the Drinkers Choice Award Sponsor.

Tickets are $45 and available by contacting Dr. Michael Kinney, SUNY Broome's Dean of Liberal Arts, or Marcia Blackburn at blackburnmc@sunybroome.edu.

Do Something: SUNY Broome embraces the Green Dot initiative

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

No one has to do everything. Everyone has to do something.

That's the core message of the Green Dot initiative, which has been part of the SUNY Broome practice for nearly a decade. Formed in partnership with the Crime Victims Assistance Center, the program seeks to prevent and address power-based personal violence, which uses power, control or intimidation to harm another individual.

These incidents of violence and aggression – which include stalking, sexual assault, harassment, domestic violence – are considered red dots, explained SUNY Broome Counseling Services' Melissa Martin.

“Green dots are the good things in the world that cover up the red dots, in an attempt to make the campus community safer,” she explained. The goal: To replace red dots with green dots – and prevent those red dots from happening in the first place.

To that end, SUNY Broome's Green Dot program has conducted gentle awareness campaigns, including an annual weekend breakfast with green pancakes, interactive tabling events and more. They're looking to do much the same this year, in addition to a Common Hour presentation and a potential training for faculty, staff and students in October.

Participants in the program learn about the three D's of intervention:

- Direct, which involves directly interacting with the people involved in the situation
- Delegate, when a person recognizes a red dot situation and involves a second party to aid the intervention
- Distract, which creates a diversion to diffuse the attention of people in the situation away from the negative behavior.

Here is the schedule for Green Dot events in Fall 2017. Stay tuned for further updates!

- Common Hour presentation from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Sept. 21 in Decker 201.
- Interactive tabling event from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sept. 26 in the Student Center Lobby

Green Dot training session on Oct. 20 at a location to be determined

Say farewell to Heather Darrow on Sept. 20

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join us in saying farewell to Heather Darrow, Staff Associate for Student Retention, as she embarks on her new position with Hobsons.

We will have cake and punch from 11 a.m. to noon in D-201 on Wednesday, September 20, 2017. Please stop by for refreshments and to offer your well wishes.

Farewell Party logo

The Monday Poem: 'Dear P.' by Victoria Chang

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Monday Poem is brought to you by Professor Jim Gormley of the English Department. Enjoy!

Dear P.

Victoria Chang

Someone will      love you    many will      love you      many will brother you    some of these loves will      bother you    some    will      leave you one might      haunt    you      hunt you in your sleep      make you      weep the tearless kind of weep the      kind of weep    that drowns your organs    slowly    there are little oars    in your body little boats    grab onto them and row and      row someone will tell you    no    but you won't know he is right until you have already    wrung your own heart dry    your hands dripping knives    until you have    already    reached your hands into    his body and put them through his    heart    love is the only thing that    is not    an    argument

About This Poem

“This poem is a part of a series of epistolary poems that are in my forthcoming book, Barbie Chang. I wrote these to my children, knowing that despite the wisdom that comes with my own aging, they will still have to make all the same mistakes (more or less) that I have made, which is a scary thought.”

—Victoria Chang

Victoria Chang is the author of Barbie Chang, forthcoming in November 2017 from Copper Canyon Press. She teaches at Chapman University and the Orange County School of the Arts and lives in Southern California.

PTK Film Series: ‘The Adventures of Prince Achmed’ on Sept. 20

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us for a screening of “The Adventures of Prince Achmed” at 7 p.m. Sept. 20 in T-102. The 1926 film from Germany is part of the Phi Theta Kappa International Film Series on Nationalism and Animation. A discussion will follow.

What's that Green Dot all about? Learn more Sept. 21

September 17, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

When you see an incident of violence or aggression, what do you do? No one has to do everything, but everyone has to do something — that's the message behind the Green Dot program.

Please join us from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 21, in Decker 201 for a Green Dot Overview to learn about this wonderful initiative and bystander programming that is coming to SUNY Broome. Learn what you can do to help others on campus.

Attention Advisors: New course opportunities for October & November!

September 15, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Academic Advising logo

Are you advising students who need credits to maintain full-time status or keep their Student Village assignment, or meet Financial Aid eligibility? Do your students need academic strategies and skills content to promote success? Do you have student on probation who could benefit from additional study skills training?

The Learning Assistance Department is pleased to offer one credit LRS 107 and LRS 108 in FULLY ONLINE delivery formats as follows:

- Oct. 3 through Nov. 8, 2017: (CRN#30662) LRS 107 – Textbook Mastery & Notetaking will cover basic principles for academic success, learning styles, interacting with instructors and classmates (communication), critical reading/literacy skills and note-taking.
- Nov. 9 through Dec. 18, 2017: (CRN# 30706) LRS 108 – Study Management, Memory & Exams will cover basic principles for academic success, learning styles, time management, memory strategies and test-taking skills.

The instructor is Michelle Beatty, who will bring her online teaching experience as well as connections within the Learning Assistance Department to support learners in the courses. She will meet students' needs both virtually through video conferencing as well as face-to-face to meet students' needs.

Study abroad opportunity: Apply to a two-week study tour in China

September 15, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Internationalization Consortium \(TIC\) invites students to participate in the Winter 2018 China Rising Star Study Tour, sponsored by the China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE). This two-week study tour will be held from Jan. 7 to 20, 2018, in Beijing, Guangzhou and Chengdu, and have a focus on art and design. Forty American students, along with students and faculty members from Chinese higher vocational colleges, will participate. Activities will include workshops on student artistic creation and design, site visits, and cultural experiences.

CEAIE will pay for all participant expenses in China, including lodging, meals, in-country transportation, academic programs, and cultural tours. Participants will be responsible for paying for their international flights, Chinese visas, travel insurance, and personal expenses.

Students eligible for participation in this study tour must:

- be US citizens,

- be 18 to 30 years of age,
- have an interest in China and Chinese culture,
- be willing to promote education exchange and cooperation between China and the US.

The application deadline for this winter study tour is Nov. 10, 2017. Please contact Mandy Lautzenheiser at mandy.lautzenheiser@rockets.utoledo.edu for more information about this study tour and for application materials.

Focus on Wellness: Change your brain (for the better!) with exercise

September 15, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

Focus on Wellness logo

Check out this article from Cleveland Clinic Wellness:

As a rule, the things that benefit your body below your shoulders also benefit your brain (eating nutritious whole foods and getting good quality sleep, for example). If you need another reason to start or amp up an exercise program, research shows that along with keeping your heart, muscles, and bones in good shape, physical activity seems to be one of the best ways to keep your memory and thinking skills sharp as you age. As for the “how,” research has shown that exercise can increase the size of the hippocampus, an area of the brain that governs memory. A new study suggests that physical activity may affect the elasticity of the hippocampus, too, which also helps with memory. Time to get the fitness party started! Pick an activity you enjoy that gets your heart pumping and fits into your schedule and budget. Walking, biking, swimming, dancing, or playing tennis are all fantastic choices. Plan to spend about 150 minutes a week, and if that’s intimidating, start small and build up to it. You’ll help to keep your body strong and healthy — and your brain sharp.

Source: Aerobic fitness, hippocampal viscoelasticity, and relational memory performance.

Title IX trainings on Oct. 23, Nov. 9

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us for Title IX First Responder training from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday, October 23, and 11 a.m. to noon Thursday, November 9, both in Wales 203B

Faculty and staff who have not attended a previous Title IX training are strongly encouraged to attend one of these trainings. Even if you have previously attended, a refresher course is recommended once a year. Registration is not required and a sign-in sheet will be used to take attendance. A question and answer session will follow the training.

Sept. 28 campus festival to benefit Hurricane Harvey relief

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join the student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division for the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

Sept. 21 Common Hour: Point-Counterpoint

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join faculty presenters Scott Corley and Carla Michalak at 11 a.m. Sept. 21 in T-101 for Point-Counterpoint. Panelists with divergent points of view will discuss the most important current events of the day.

Sept. 21 Common Hour: Mickey Mouse Monopoly

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Students and the faculty adviser from Phi Theta Kappa, the campus' international honor society, will offer "Mickey Mouse Monopoly" at 11 a.m. Sept. 21 in T-102, a panel discussion on the global power of Disney in shaping childhoods and a new generation of customers.

Panelists Brandon Gow, Leah Best, Orion Barber, James Gill and Professor I.J. Byrnes will discuss how Disney has expanded its empire and perhaps even colonized childhood.

Hornets Wanted: More players sought for women's basketball team

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Interested in playing for the SUNY Broome Women's Basketball team? The women's basketball team is currently looking to add some more players to their roster. Any full-time students interested in playing for the women's basketball team can contact head coach Mike Huggler at hugglermj@sunybroome.edu or call the office at 607-778-5271.

SUNY Pride Conference to be held Oct. 27-28

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

5th Annual
SUNY PRIDE CONFERENCE

"Wrap Yourself In A Rainbow And Enjoy The Ride!" - Kit Yan

SUNY Oneonta
Activism: Creative Expression
for LGBTQIA Resistance & Healing
October 27-28, 2017
(save the date!)

Free Registration for SUNY Oneonta Students, Faculty, & Staff • $25 for All Other Students • $60 for the General Public

keynote performance
by Kit Yan
kityanpoet.com
of Queer Heartache, an award-winning one-person
slam poetry theater show

call for papers and presentations!
registration begins late august.
for submissions & details visit:
oneonta.edu/development/gsrc/SUNYpride.asp

for lodging contact: 607-433-9000,
the Hampton Inn at Oneonta.
(ask for the SUNY Pride rate at $91 per night, rooms available until 10/12).

for more info: 607-436-3013

Sponsored by the Gender Sexuality Resource Center (GSRC), the Gender and Sexuality Alliance (GSA),
Student Life and Leadership@ Hunt College Union, the Office of Equity and Inclusion, and the SUNY Oneonta
Alumni Association with fiscal support from the Fund for Oneonta

SUNY Pride offers educational sessions, Drag ball, community building and an open mic on Friday night

5th Annual
SUNY PRIDE CONFERENCE

"Wrap Yourself In A Rainbow And Enjoy The Ride!" - Kit Yan

SUNY Oneonta
Activism: Creative Expression
for LGBTQIA Resistance & Healing
October 27-28, 2017
(save the date!)

Free Registration for SUNY Oneonta Students, Faculty, & Staff • $25 for All Other Students • $60 for the General Public

keynote performance
by Kit Yan
kityanpoet.com
of Queer Heartache, an award-winning one-person
slam poetry theater show

call for papers and presentations!
registration begins late august.
for submissions & details visit:
oneonta.edu/development/gsrc/SUNYpride.asp

for lodging contact: 607-433-9000,
the Hampton Inn at Oneonta.
(ask for the SUNY Pride rate at $91 per night, rooms available until 10/12).

for more info: 607-436-3013

Sponsored by the Gender Sexuality Resource Center (GSRC), the Gender and Sexuality Alliance (GSA),
Student Life and Leadership@ Hunt College Union, the Office of Equity and Inclusion, and the SUNY Oneonta
Alumni Association with fiscal support from the Fund for Oneonta

SUNY Pride offers educational sessions, Drag ball, community building and an open mic on Friday night

The fifth annual SUNY Pride Conference will be held Oct. 27-28 at SUNY Oneonta in the Hunt College Union. SUNY Pride offers educational sessions, a Drag Ball, community building and an open mic on Friday night.

The keynote performance will be by Kit Yan.

Call for Papers/Presentations: This year's theme is: Artivism: Creative Expression for LGBTQIA Resistance and Healing. For information on submissions go to: <http://www.oneonta.edu/development/gsrc/call-for-presentations.asp> Submission deadline is September 23.

SUNY Pride registration is now active at <http://ems.oneonta.edu/EmsRegics/SUNYPride2017>
Registration fee: $25 for any non-SUNY Oneonta student, $60 for non-SUNY Oneonta faculty/staff and public.
Registration deadline is noon Friday, October 20.

SANS OUCH! Sept. 2017 – Password Managers

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SANS is excited to announce the September issue of OUCH! This month, led by Guest Editor Chris Christianson, we explain Password Managers. Organizations and security professionals heavily promote that everyone should have a unique password for every account, but do little to explain HOW to store or memorize them all. Password managers are a simple and secure solution that enables people to store as many unique passwords, secret questions/answers and other sensitive information that they need. In addition, both NIST (SP800-63-3b) and the UK NCSC now promote the use of Password Managers. Share OUCH! with your family, friends, and coworkers.

Ouch201709 En

The Black Student Union is seeking an advisor

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Black Student Union serves as a safe place for not only students of African American decent, but people who like to discuss or identify with the issues that go on in the black community. The organization has weekly discussions about what it means to be black in today's society, as well as events.

This year, BSU is focusing on feeding the community, creating scholarships for students of color, and promoting higher education by taking students to historically black colleges and universities. If you are interested in being a part of a movement such as BSU please don't hesitate to contact Bianca Bennett at bennettbr@acad.sunybroome.edu.

New Resources in the SUNY Broome Library

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

This fall, the SUNY Broome Library has acquired two new site licenses for the New York Times Digital Edition and The Chronicle of Higher Education digital edition. The PDF attached below explains how to access these resources.

Fall 2017 Announcement New Resources In The Suny Broome Library

Groundbreaking for the Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center on Sept. 21

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

A rendering of the Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center

You are invited to a groundbreaking ceremony, as we mark the transformation of the Mechanical Building into the Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center.

Home to many of SUNY Broome's technical programs, the Mechanical Building was among the first to be built on the college's Dickinson campus. This extensive renovation project will re-invent this space, updating it with the latest technology, from a geothermal system that harnesses the energy stored in the earth to an advanced manufacturing center that will house a clean room, a food processing laboratory, a fermentation science lab and a high-tech soldering lab.

The building will be renamed in accordance with stipulations laid out by the late Emil Calice, who had donated his $11 million estate to the Broome Community College Foundation.

The ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 21, 2017, between the Mechanical Building and the Natural Science Center on the SUNY Broome campus.

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available: Deadline October 6

September 14, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Funding for activities taking place between September 1, 2017 and December 31, 2017 is now available. These PDAP funds are accessible to both Faculty and Staff.

For funding consideration, please read through the information about the Professional Development Assistance Program (PDAP) on the Professional Development website:

(<https://www.sunybroome.edu/web/professional-development/assistance-program>). This site also contains the recently updated and approved forms that must be used for full consideration of your PDAP request.

PDAP applications should be sent to the secretary to the Chief Academic Officer (mail stop #55) by October 6, 2017.

The Professional Development Steering Committee will meet shortly after this date to act on the applications. Applications received after the October 6th deadline will be accepted in the unlikely event that funds are still available.

Please contact Jamie Heron-Starr (x5592) if you have any questions on the PDAP application procedure.

Meet and Greet with Dr. Carol Ross on Sept. 29

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us from 1 to 3 p.m. September 29 in the Administration Suite for a Meet & Greet with Dr. Carol Ross, SUNY Broome's new Vice President of Economic & Student Development and Chief Diversity Officer.

You're invited: SUNY Broome's Bachelor Degree Partnerships welcomes SUNY Empire on Oct. 24

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome's Bachelor's Degree Partnerships welcomes SUNY Empire State College!

Join us in commemorating our new partnership and welcoming SUNY Empire's Dr. Paul Miller, Barbara Rivera and Roni O'Geen to the SUNY Broome community to learn more about this transfer option for your students. Refreshments will be served.

The event runs from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 24, in NSC 207G.

Transfer Events and Information logo

In the Community: Greater Binghamton Marathon 5K, 13.1 and 26.2 on Sept 24

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Dick's Great Binghamton Marathon has a 5K, 13.1 mile Half Marathon, 26.2 mile Marathon, and a 4-Person 26.2 mile Marathon Relay on Sept. 24.

There will also be a free kids 1K! Runners, spectators and beer enthusiasts are encouraged to join in the fun. There will be free Ommegang beer tasting starting at 10 a.m.

This event is a fundraiser for ALS Association's Upstate NY Chapter.

Click here for more information.

Holla at Dr. Carol on Sept. 27

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Express yourself! Dr. Carol Ross, Vice President for Student Development and Chief Diversity Officer, wants to hear from you — happy thoughts, concerns or challenges as you start the semester.

The event runs from 12 to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27, in the Student Center.

Annual Title IX Statement from President Drumm

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm writes:

I want to thank you all for your hard work on behalf of our students and the Southern Tier communities we serve. The college is off to a good start in spite of the many challenges facing community colleges and particularly in the Northeast. This statement is about one of those challenges all colleges face.

Today you cannot open up a periodical without there being an article or op-ed noting the challenging times in which all of higher education is immersed. Small privates struggle under the weight of high tuition, and now Excelsior here in NY. The Northeast market struggles with shrinking core market demographics for all of us. Universities struggle with lawmakers over cultural topics. In addition, most community colleges struggle with flagging public funding. Consequently, our periodicals are replete with both laments on the overall situation and explorations into potential remedies.

Amidst all of this SUNY Broome has held up pretty well thanks to all of you. We have our struggles for sure, but as a cohesive academic community we have been able to work through them while offering our students a high quality academic experience. By emphasizing academic quality and focusing on continuously improving our student support services, we have been able to keep our college moving forward in spite of the headwinds coming from Albany or anywhere else. Thank you for your part in this!

It continues to be honor to lead this great academic community along with all of you who also provide leadership whenever and wherever it is needed. This is primarily why we are so successful in spite of the tumultuous political and social issues swirling around us. So, while it's not a requirement for me to share the above personal sentiment with you, the following is a requirement and represents one more of those issues which has greatly impacted college and university campuses over the past several of years. I also want to take this opportunity to thank one of the many leaders I generally referred to above, Dean Scott Schuhert, for his leadership efforts on the challenging front of Title IX referenced below.

One of the federally required annual duties of all college presidents is to remind our campus community of Title IX requirements. You may recall that 2 years ago SUNY handed down a uniform sexual violence policy Victim/Survivor Bill of Rights. In response to the new SUNY policies, key SUNY Broome faculty and staff participated in various levels of response training. While we have a zero-tolerance policy for violence of any manifestation, sexual violence between or among any individuals falls under SUNY's new policy as well as our own. And beyond violence prevention, it should go without saying that we want civil behavior in all forms throughout our academic community and so a few years ago we created a Campus Civility Statement through our Shared Governance procedures. That statement is attached here and I ask everyone to refresh their memory of it and please refer anyone to it if circumstances warrant.

Attached you will also find the SUNY Broome Community College Students' Bill of Rights created in response to the SUNY policy. I am sharing this as required but more importantly in hopes that all members of our academic community will take time to read these and share them with your colleagues and students. We must continue to support victims/survivors of sexual violence or any violence while working to prevent it wherever we can as a civil academic community.

If you have any questions, please contact our Title IX coordinator, Dean Scott Schuhert, at schuhertsm@sunybroome.edu, by phone at 607-778-5681, or in person in the Science Building room 227.

Civility Statement Students Bill Of Rights

Many Thanks: Muckles Inc. donates to Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival on Sept. 28

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Many thanks to Muckles Inc. for donating 100 event staff t-shirts to the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival effort! Every owner at the local business started their education at SUNY Broome.

Student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division are holding the festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

Wine and Cheese Gathering on Oct. 3

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join your colleagues to celebrate another successful start to the new academic year with our annual Wine & Cheese gathering from 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3, in Decker 201, the Klee Room and patio area.

What's that Green Dot all about? Learn more Sept. 21

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

When you see an incident of violence or aggression, what do you do? No one has to do everything, but everyone has to do something — that's the message behind the Green Dot program.

Please join us from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 21, in Decker 201 for a Green Dot Overview to learn about this wonderful initiative and bystander programming that is coming to SUNY Broome. Learn what you can do to help others on campus.

You're Invited to the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival

September 13, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY BROOME'S BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL STUDIES DIVISION
INVITES YOU TO

---

HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF FESTIVAL

---

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 28 11:00 - 2:00 STUDENT CENTER LAWN

---

• Games & Activities • Entertainment • Live Magician • Photo Booth •
Corn Hole • $10 BBQ Chicken Lunch (To Go) • Cotton Candy • Popcorn •
Hamburgers • Hotdogs •

#Hornets4Houston
All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

---

For more information please visit:
Maria Montemagno
montemagnomk@sunybroome.edu

SUNY BROOME'S BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL STUDIES DIVISION
INVITES YOU TO

---

HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF FESTIVAL

---

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 28 11:00 - 2:00 STUDENT CENTER LAWN

---

• Games & Activities • Entertainment • Live Magician • Photo Booth •
Corn Hole • $10 BBQ Chicken Lunch (To Go) • Cotton Candy • Popcorn •
Hamburgers • Hotdogs •

#Hornets4Houston
All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

---

For more information please visit:
Maria Montemagno
montemagnomk@sunybroome.edu

(Image links to pdf)

SUNY Broome's Business & Professional Studies Division invites you to

Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival Chicken BBQ

Thursday, September 28, 2017 | 11am – 12pm | Student Center Lawn

Games & Activities • Entertainment • Live Magician • Photo Booth • Corn Hole • $10 BBQ Chicken Lunch (To Go) • Cotton Candy • Popcorn • Hamburgers • Hotdogs

#Hornets4Houston

All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

For more information, please contact:

Maria Montemagno

montemagnomk@sunybroome.edu

Title IX trainings on Oct. 23, Nov. 9

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us for Title IX First Responder training from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday, October 23, and 11 a.m. to noon Thursday, November 9, both in Wales 203B

Faculty and staff who have not attended a previous Title IX training are strongly encouraged to attend one of these trainings. Even if you have previously attended, a refresher course is recommended once a year. Registration is not required and a sign-in sheet will be used to take attendance. A question and answer session will follow the training.

Annual State Fire inspection coming up

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Image of a fire truck and firefighting gear

The annual New York State Fire Inspection will be occurring soon.

Some of you may have been involved in the prior inspections and correction of code violations. This can be a frustrating process, but our end goal is a safe campus for us all. With everyone's cooperation, we should be successful.

Here is a quick reminder of some items to look for:

- Do not prop doors open
- Make sure to maintain ceiling clearance
- Avoid the placement of belongings on the heaters
- Make sure portable heaters have tip protection and that they are free and clear of papers etc.
- No extension cords
- Power strips must be plugged directly into the wall outlet not each other
- No candles, incense, plug-ins or tart melters

If you have questions, please contact the Office of Public Safety.

Coffee and Conversation: Academic Coffee House considers student success

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

What is student success, and how can SUNY Broome foster it? That was the central question of a recent Academic Coffee House discussion hosted by Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Francis Battisti.

The frank and spirited discussion included representatives from the Teaching Resource Center, the STEM division, Academic Affairs, Counseling, Admissions and the Library, all of whom offered their perspectives and concerns regarding student success.

Thanks to initiatives such as Starfish and Achieving the Dream, SUNY Broome is better able to measure aspects of student success, Dr. Battisti pointed out.

With a diverse student population, the definition of student success may be similarly diverse, participants considered. Topics of discussion included the resources available to students and particularly Orientation, which has helped address many freshmen questions before the school year even begins.

From an academic standpoint, success also means helping a student transfer to a desired institution or getting a job after graduation, participants said.

Obstacles to student success include the high costs of textbooks, some of which can cost hundreds of dollars. Sometimes timing also may determine whether students can take advantage of available resources; the Summer Bridge program, for example, didn't see the numbers it expected to draw because many prospective students are working.

You too can join the discussion by taking part in future Academic Coffee House events. The coffee and the discussion are free; just bring yourself, your lunch and an open mind.

"It's important for me to stay in touch with what's going on in the classroom," Dr. Battisti said of the Academic Coffeehouse.

Sept. 14 Common Hour: Understanding Japanese Anime

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Common Hour Logo

Join faculty presenter David Michalak for “Understanding Japanese Anime” at 11 a.m. Sept. 14 in T-102.

How can a Westerner better understand the cultural underpinnings of Japanese anime? What should the viewer look for when watching this film genre and how has it influenced American culture? Find out!

September 12 Ice Cream Social

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream! Stop by the Baldwin Gymnasium on Tuesday, September 12, between 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. for ice cream and get to know the SUNY Broome support staff.

In the Community: Heat Run 5K and 10K on Sept. 30

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Lace up those sneakers and hit the road for The Heat Run 2017, presented by Mirabito Energy Products and Mirabito Philanthropy Inc.

The 5K and 10K races take place at 11 a.m. Sept. 30 at the Vestal Coal House on the Rail Trail, and proceeds benefit David's Refuge. People of all abilities are encouraged to participate. A 1K race starts at 10:45.

Click the PDFs below for more information on becoming a sponsor. Register to run online at mirabito5k.eventbrite.com; student rates are available.

Heat Run Flyer FINAL Heat Run Sponsorship Formv2 2

Marketplace: Professor Garnar holding estate sale Sept. 14-17

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

For Sale sign

Doug and Judy Garnar are selling thousands of items at their old schoolhouse! There will be vintage clothing, pocketbooks, linens, school desks, pottery, antiques, rugs, lighting, Victorian dishes, outdoor décor, wall hangings furniture, books and so many more items that won't disappoint. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. September 14, 15 and 16 and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. September 17.

For pictures and more information, go to estatesale.net and search for Smithville Flats, NY.

Yum in Advance: Cider Mill vouchers for sale!

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome Medical Assistant students are selling vouchers for cider and doughnuts from the Cider Mill.

Though these prices are the same as going and buying directly from the Cider Mill, the students receive a 50% profit to go toward paying for our CMA certification exams to become Certified Medical Assistants. The vouchers are redeemable between November 1 and December 1.

Please email booromke@acad.sunybroome.ed or Lorenzolugoc@acad.edu with any questions or to place orders. Orders will be accepted until October 6. Checks should be made out to FSA with MA Club in the subject line.

In the Community: Race for Justice 5K September 16 in Binghamton

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Grab your running shoes and hit the streets for a good cause! The Race for Justice 5K Run/Walk takes place at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 16, in Binghamton and will benefit the Legal Aid Society of Mid-New York.

The race kicks off at the Peacemaker Stage on the Court Street Bridge. The event features a live broadcast with Dana Potter & Magic 101.7, tunes by Russ the Big Guy and an after-party and raffle at Galaxy Brewing.

Click the PDFs attached below for more information, or register online at www.raceforjustice5k.org.

RaceForJustaceBrochure Inside RaceForJustaceBrochure Cover Justice Walk Poster11x17

Listen: Professor Wojdat discusses Sept. 28 Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival on WEBO

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Listen to a broadcast from radio station WEBO! Professor Rey Wojdat headed to the Owego station to discuss the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival.

00:00

00:00

Student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division are holding the festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

STUDENT PROGRAM CLUBS FROM SUNY BROOME'S BUSINESS
& PROFESSIONAL STUDIES DIVISION INVITE YOU TO

HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF FESTIVAL

SEPTEMBER
THURSDAY
28

SUNY
BROOME
CAMPUS

• Games & Activities • Entertainment • Live Magician • Photo Booth •
Corn Hole • $20 BBQ Chicken Lunch (To Go) • Cotton Candy • Popcorn
• Hamburgers • Hotdogs •

#Hornets4Houston

All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

For more information please visit:
@h4h_sunyb
sunyb.org/relief/hurricane-harvey

In Memorium: Former BCC Foundation Director Roger Hartman passes

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Former BCC Foundation Executive Director Roger L. Hartman

Former BCC Foundation Executive Director Roger L. Hartman passed away Thursday, Sept. 7, from complications associated with long-term chronic illness. During his development career, Hartman, 73, of Conklin, also was executive director of Tri-Cities Opera and executive director of the Binghamton Boys & Girls Club Foundation.

An Elmira native, Hartman graduated from Horseheads High School, Bowling Green State University (Ohio) and the Elmira College Graduate Program in Education. He served two years in the U.S. Peace Corps in Iran., then was a teacher and journalist before beginning a career in fundraising and not-for-profit management.

He served four years as development director and then executive director at TCO, then became executive director and planned giving director of the Broome Community College Foundation for 15 years. Following his tenure at BCC (now SUNY Broome), he served for 14 years as executive director of the Binghamton Boys & Girls Club Foundation.

Accomplishments during his development career included planning and fundraising for the Decker Health Science Center on the now-SUNY Broome campus as well as fundraising for the Applied Technology Building and for new laboratory facilities for the chemistry department. Major advances were made in both annual fund results and expansion of endowment, which, during his tenure was the largest of any community college in New York state.

In 1992, the Council for Advancement and Support of Education honored the BCC Foundation, under Hartman's leadership, for being the number one private development program nationally at any two-year public college.

At TCO, he launched the company's first subscription season, an important advancement in long-range planning, and with the Boys & Girls Club Foundation, he guided fundraising for the club's new home on Clinton Street.

In his spare time, Hartman enjoyed singing, vegetable gardening, hunting and observing nature. He sang with the TCO chorus and did solo work at the Unitarian-Universalist Congregation of Binghamton, where he was a long-time member. Even when physical disability restricted his deer hunting to sitting in a blind provided by his cousin, Ronald Stayer of Horseheads, his efforts were still productive, filling the freezer many times over the years.

Hartman is survived by his dear friend Diane Dattoria of Conklin; son Morgan Hartman (Francine) of Williamstown, Mass.; daughter Mandy Hartman Graf (Bernhard) of Munich, Germany; siblings Richard Hartman (Brenda), Bonnie Phillips and Linda Grover (Coral); grandchildren Gable, Graziella and George Hartman and Bastian Hartman Graf, and step-granddaughters Frankie and Abby Scialabba.

His family will receive friends from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday (Sept. 12) at the Unitarian-Universalist Congregation of Binghamton, 183 Riverside Drive, Binghamton. A memorial service will follow visiting hours. Interment of ashes will be at Rural Home Cemetery in Big Flats at the family's convenience.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Unitarian-Universalist Congregation of Binghamton, WSKG, the BCC Foundation, the Binghamton Boys & Girls Club Foundation, Tri-Cities Opera or other cause of one's choice.

Never Forget: SUNY Broome gathers to remember 9/11 *Updated with photos*

September 12, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Bagpiper Rich Maloney plays during SUNY Broome's annual Sept. 11 memorial on Sept. 11, 2017.

The solemn tones of "Amazing Grace" rose over the gathering crowd in front of the Darwin R. Wales Center, as the campus community gathered for the 16th annual Sept. 11 Remembrance ceremony.

The morning mist burned off as bagpiper Rich Maloney played, unveiling the clear blue skies of September – skies that were familiar to all those who remember that fateful day, when terrorist attacks struck the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and a field in Shanksville, Pennsylvania.

Not that many SUNY Broome students would remember: Many were just toddlers when the attacks occurred, although they grew up in a world shaped by their aftermath, SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm acknowledged.

First-responders and elected officials joined the SUNY Broome Administration, faculty, staff and students for the annual memorial ceremony, which continues to draw a crowd.

For many young Hornets, 9/11 has become a historic event – similar to how previous generations viewed the attack on Pearl Harbor, Dr. Drumm pointed out. Like Pearl Harbor, 9/11 led the nation to war – in Afghanistan and Iraq, and the worldwide fight against terrorism, including within our own borders. These conflicts continue to this day.

SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm speaks during the annual 9/11 memorial on Sept. 11, 2017.

“We continue to be deeply grateful to all of our servicemen and women, who risk their lives every day to fight terrorism in our increasingly volatile world,” President Drumm said.

While today’s students may not have endured the “duck and cover” drills of previous generations, they too face a world with renewed threats of nuclear war, this time from North Korea. They have also grown up in a world where schools have lock-down drills in preparation for active shooters – domestic terrorism, in short.

“In many ways, today’s young people have had to be more resilient and more ready to face an uncertain future,” Dr. Drumm said.

While it can be easy to focus on the darkness, it’s just as important to focus on the moments of duty and compassion that tragedies spawn, the impulse to help one another that is among the greatest motivators for both Americans and humanity as a whole, Dr. Drumm said. That includes the first-responders bravely facing the flames on 9/11 and all those agencies and individuals who came together to save lives and comfort the loved ones of the lost.

Broome County Executive Jason Garnar speaks during the annual 9/11 memorial ceremony on Sept. 11, 2017.

In fact, we're still pulling together as Americans. Just as Upstate emergency services personnel headed downstate to help out in the aftermath of 9/11, New Yorkers have headed west to aid Houstonians impacted by the massive flooding there.

SUNY Broome and other community colleges also have a particular role to play: training the first-responders of tomorrow. Most first-responders across the country have received their training from community colleges, President Drumm pointed out.

On 9/11, race, religion, political party – none of the usual dividing lines mattered, remembered Broome County Executive and SUNY Broome alumnus Jason Garnar. We were all simply Americans, coming together to help – an impulse seen whenever disaster strikes, from local snowstorms to terrorism.

SUNY Broome faculty, staff and students gathered for the 2017 9/11 memorial ceremony.

“We should never forget the spirit we had in this country that day. For a long time, we were unified,” Garnar said. “We should have that type of unity each and every day, not just when tragedy strikes.”

The annual Sept. 11 memorial ceremony on Sept. 11, 2017, began with a moment of silence.

Upcoming Doctoral Colloquium Presentation this Wednesday

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professional Development logo

Upcoming Doctoral Colloquium Presentations

“God Bless the Revolution: Episcopalians and Social Justice”

My work seeks to understand how a religious denomination that avoided every major social issue of the 19th century, including slavery, became a leading voice of progressive Christianity in the 20th century. My quest to finish the Ph.D. is a story of overcoming illness, changing advisors and all the typical roadblocks to finishing the degree.

When: Wednesday, September 13th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:30 pm

Presenter(s): Dr. Phyllis Amenda

Register: Register Here

All presentations are from 3-4:30 pm in the TRC Conference room

each offering will be individually advertised for registration

October 11, 2017

Dr. Julia O’Connell

“Sound, Sin, and Conversion in Victorian England”

November 8, 2017

Dr. Amy Zieziula

Student Affairs Professionals”

“An Analysis of Campus Civility: Best Practices from

December 13, 2017      Dr. Carol Ross      “An Exploratory-Comparative Study of Black, Community College, Associate in Arts Degree Students’ Concerns about Completing the Bachelor’s Degree”

Get involved: Run for Student Assembly! Petitions due Sept. 15

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

ARE YOU LOOKING TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE ON CAMPUS & DEVELOP LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE WHILE YOU'RE AT IT?

STUDENT ASSEMBLY NEEDS YOU!

VOTE!

PICK UP A PETITION FOR CANDIDACY FORM:

OLD SCIENCE BUILDING, ROOM 224

SIGNED PETITIONS MUST BE TURNED IN BY:

3:00PM ON FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15TH

ELECTIONS ARE ON THE SWARM

Student Assembly needs you! Are you looking to make a difference on campus and develop leadership experience while you're at it? Vote for your Student Assembly representatives, or run for office yourself.

Pick up a petition for candidacy form in Old Science Building Room 224. Signed petitions must be turned in by 3 p.m. Friday, September 15. Elections are on the Swarm when it is time to vote.

Running for Student Assembly? Make sure you hand in your petitions by 3 p.m. Sept. 15.

Upcoming Board of Trustees meetings

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Board of Trustees of SUNY Broome Community College has scheduled the following meetings:

- September 21, 2017 (Thursday) – Monthly meeting of the Finance and Facilities Committee, 8:00 a.m., Wales Administration Center Conference Room 107.
- September 21, 2017 (Thursday) – Monthly meeting of the Board, 5:00 p.m., Decker Health Science Building Libous Room D117.

All meeting sites are on the SUNY Broome campus and open to the Press and Public.

Questions about sexual or dating violence? Meet with a confidential advocate

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Are you concerned that you or a friend might have experienced a form of sexual or dating violence?

If so, you probably have a lot of questions. Haley Murphy is a confidential advocate from Crime Victims Assistance Center who can answer your questions and offer support. She can provide you with options and will never encourage you to make a decision you are uncomfortable with.

You can confidentially meet with her on campus during open hours by dropping in to the Dean of Students Office in the Old Science Building, Room 206, on Thursday, September 14, from 12:30 to 2 p.m. or by setting up an appointment. You can reach Haley at cvac@sunybroome.edu or haley@cvac.us.

Visions FCU Higher Education Student Advisory Council

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The ALCC & Visions FCU have teamed up and are looking for students to serve on the Visions FCU Higher Education Student Advisory Council. This is a great opportunity for students to make connections with industry professionals, have their ideas heard and gain perks (a free gift card!). For more info or to apply, stop into the ALCC (AT 101), call us at (607) 778-5207, or go to www2.sunybroome.edu/careercenter/calendar-of-events to complete the application. All ages & degree programs are welcome!

Bcc Visions Student Advisory Board Flyer 1

Apply now: BCC Foundation seeking Director of Alumni Engagement

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The BCC Foundation is taking applications for a position as director of Alumni Engagement at SUNY Broome Community College.

The Director of Alumni Engagement is responsible for designing and implementing major components of SUNY Broome Community College's Alumni Engagement program, which strategically engages alumni, fosters relationships and builds private support that enhances the entire campus community. The Director of Alumni Engagement will be employed by the Broome Community College Foundation and will serve as a member of the Foundation's Senior Advancement team.

The Director of Alumni Engagement will specifically focus on engaging alumni to participate in the advancement activities of SUNY Broome Community College via the Foundation. The Director will conduct the planning and execution of alumni events, develop electronic and print communication pieces, and create and implement a prospect research program that will ultimately support the Foundation's major and planned, leadership, and broad-based annual giving programs.

This full-time, exempt salaried position will require occasional evening and weekend availability and some travel will be required. Successful candidates will have a bachelor's degree in a relevant field and at least three years of demonstrated successful work experience in a higher education or related setting. Experience in alumni affairs preferred. Proficiency in computer skills, Office Suite, social media platforms and relational databases are required.

To apply, please email a cover letter and resume to the Search Committee at foundation@sunybroome.edu.

Health for Haiti 2018 Scholarship Deadline is Oct. 1

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Every Winter term, SUNY Broome students head to Haiti to engage in service learning projects.

Health for Haiti is now accepting applications for the Winter 2018 class. Students who apply and are accepted before October 1 will be considered for a need-based scholarship that will cover a portion of the student travel fee.

Students from every major on campus are encouraged to apply. All you need is a sense of adventure and a desire to make a positive difference in Haiti. Fact sheet, application link, and course project information are available at www.healthforhaiti.org.

SUNY Broome's Health for Haiti program has brought clean water, solar energy, healthcare and more to the communities it serves.

On-campus construction activities for the week of Sept. 11

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The following construction activities are planned for the week of Sept. 11, 2017. Please pay attention to and abide by all construction signage in these areas:

- Work will begin to repair the stairwell on the east end of the Student Services Building. This entrance will be closed until the work is completed. Please use the western entrance to the building in addition to the northern entrance from parking lot #16.
- Repairs and painting of the SUNY Broome Oz Winters Tennis Courts will be completed this week.
- Asbestos/abatement work in the Mechanical Building will be moving to the first floor. Work is still proceeding on the second floor.
- Foundation excavation for the new Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center should begin this week.
- Trenching, looping and grouting for both the horizontal piping and vertical wells in the Geothermal Well Field should begin this week.

Upcoming Professional Development Events

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professional Development logo

Purple Briefcase Training: Connecting Students to Careers

The Applied Learning and Career Center has launched a brand new Career Services Management platform called Purple Briefcase. Purple Briefcase will connect students and alumni with employers and jobs, as well as provide an endless amount of resources. Faculty and staff will have the ability to use the platform to connect with their students and help them become career-ready. Please join us as we train and offer support to faculty and staff on how to use this important resource!

When: Friday, September, 15th (3 seats available)

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Gina Chase

Register: Register Here

Blackboard Advanced: Managing Your Online Course

Managing your Online Course will be offered in a 1-hour time format to faculty who have completed the Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series.

Managing Your Online Course is a review of how to effectively grade and utilize the grade center using the new Blackboard course management system. This training will cover how to grade discussions, assignments, and essay/short answer assignments and how to ensure these grades are accurately presented in the grade center. Training will also include higher-order uses of the grade center not covered in the original Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series. Participants will leave with a more complete understanding of the course management potential of the Blackboard course management system.

Seats are limited, reserve your seat today!

When: Friday, September 15th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Presenter(s): Tera Doty-Blance

Register: Register Here

Blackboard Advanced: Grade Center

Grade Center will be offered in a 1-hour time format to faculty who have completed the Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series.

This workshop is a review of how to effectively utilize the grade center. This training will cover how to maximize the grade center capabilities and tailor the grade center to your institution.

When: Friday, September 15th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm

Presenter(s): Tera Doty-Blance

Register: Register Here

Upcoming Doctoral Colloquium Presentations

“God Bless the Revolution: Episcopalians and Social Justice”

My work seeks to understand how a religious denomination that avoided every major social issue of the 19th century, including slavery, became a leading voice of progressive Christianity in the 20th century. My quest to finish the Ph.D. is a story of overcoming illness, changing advisors and all the typical roadblocks to finishing the degree.

When: Wednesday, September 13th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:30 pm

Presenter(s): Dr. Phyllis Amenda

Register: Register Here

All presentations are from 3-4:30 pm in the TRC Conference room each offering will be individually advertised for registration .

October 11, 2017: Dr. Julia O’Connell, “Sound, Sin, and Conversion in Victorian England”

November 8, 2017: Dr. Amy Zieziula, “An Analysis of Campus Civility: Best Practices from Student Affairs Professionals”

December 13, 2017: Dr. Carol Ross, “An Exploratory-Comparative Study of Black, Community College,

Associate in Arts Degree Students' Concerns about Completing the Bachelor's Degree"

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available: Deadline October 6

September 11, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Fall 2017 PDAP Funds Available

Funding for activities taking place between September 1, 2017 and December 31, 2017 is now available. These PDAP funds are accessible to both Faculty and Staff.

For funding consideration, please read through the information about the Professional Development Assistance Program (PDAP) on the Professional Development website: (<https://www.sunybroome.edu/web/professional-development/assistance-program>). This site also contains the recently updated and approved forms that must be used for full consideration of your PDAP request. PDAP applications should be sent to the secretary to the Chief Academic Officer (mail stop #55) by October 6, 2017.

The Professional Development Steering Committee will meet shortly after this date to act on the applications. Applications received after the October 6th deadline will be accepted in the unlikely event that funds are still available.

Please contact Jamie Heron-Starr (x5592) if you have any questions on the PDAP application procedure.

Join us for the ‘Eclipse of the Mind’ Fall Wellness Challenge!

September 11, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

The August 2017 partial eclipse, as seen from the SUNY Broome campus.

Join us for the Fall 2017 Wellness Challenge, the Eclipse of the Mind!

Limited to faculty and staff, the SUNY Wellness Challenge supports individuals to encourage each other in building healthier lifestyles and workplaces. During the eight-week challenge, teams of four earn points for fruit and vegetable consumption, the amount of water they drink, steps and activities, which are logged on the challenge website.

Join or create teams by going to <http://broome.mywellnesschallenge.org/> If you were in the challenge last year, you can use the same credentials.

The challenge starts on September 18 and ends on November 12. The Kick off event is at 11 a.m. September 12 in D-201; bring your own lunch. The cost is $10 per person; however if you took part last year and bring on someone new, it's $10 for the two people.

Checks can be made out to the FSA and sent to MS# 5. Contact Kurt Nelson for more information at nelsonkl@sunybroome.edu

Campus to hold annual 9/11 remembrance ceremony

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome will host its annual 9/11 remembrance ceremony at 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 11, 2017, outside the Darwin R. Wales Center.

The event, which commemorates the tragic events that occurred on September 11, 2001, will take place in front of the building's flagpole.

The campus community, local community and media are invited.

Living Mentally Well: A discussion on Sept. 14

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Kevin Hines. Image from
<http://www.kevinhinesstory.com/>

Mental health advocate and speaker Kevin Hines will be on campus Sept. 14 for an intimate discussion on Living Mentally Well from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Sept. 14 in Decker Health Sciences Room 201.

In September 2000, Hines jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge in a suicide attempt. One of only 36 people to survive this leap, he now actively spreads the message of living healthy around the globe. Hines' will to live and stay mentally well have inspired people around the world.

This event is sponsored by GHS Federal Credit Union, MHASt and SUNY Broome Counseling Services.

The Monday Poem: 'Stories About Love' by Jason Schneiderman

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Monday Poem is brought to you by Professor Jim Gormley of the English Department. Enjoy!

Stories About Love / Wedding Poem for Ada & Lucas

Jason Schneiderman

In one story, the lovers are two halves split by jealous gods, and in another story,

the lovers are victims of a wicked baby with a bow and arrow. In one story, love means never touching, but exchanging a lot of handkerchiefs, and in another story, love means a drastic change in brain chemistry that lasts a year, even though the after effects are lifelong. In one story, love is the north star guiding sailors,

and in one story love is a sharp blade,
a body of water, and a trophy all at once.

The truth is that love is nothing but itself, an axiomatic property of humankind, like storytelling and explanation giving,

which explains why everyone explains

love in stories, the way I once called it a form of disappearing, and my favorite philosopher called it a holiday. Listen, storytelling animals: today, we say, love is only love. Put down the crossbow, baby.

Put down the handkerchief, Lancelot.

Put away the easy chair, Babs. Let's let love be felt in its touch, and be known by its face.

Let's let love speak Ada and Lucas, and then let's let love be silent.

About This Poem

“This poem was written for the wedding of the poet Ada Limón and Lucas Marquardt. When Ada asked me to write a poem for the ceremony, I was both intimidated and honored. The first drafts were about what I know of love—because my poems usually start when there’s a truth I can’t tell in prose—but those drafts were all terribly flat. I started thinking about Plato’s Symposium on love, and how I love the story told by Aristophanes, even though it’s become a bit of a cliché. Marriage is an institution with a history, and as I began to think about the ways that love has been personified, explained, and understood, I realized I could put the particular and the universal in tension.”

—Jason Schneiderman

Jason Schneiderman is the author of Primary Source (Red Hen Press, 2016). He teaches at the Borough of Manhattan Community College, CUNY.

Nominations sought for ‘A Taste of Success’

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Imagine Success logo

SUNY Broome Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Francis Battisti is looking to recognize students who are demonstrating notable potential either on campus or in the community. Students who are identified will be invited to have breakfast with Dr. Battisti and Civic Engagement Coordinator Lisa Strahley, where they will share their passions and talents, talk about their vision for the future and mingle with other talented SUNY Broome students. Each student will receive a certificate acknowledging their efforts.

To recommend students please complete the form at this link.

SUNY Broome welcomes first PTECH cohort to campus this fall!

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome welcomes its first PTECH cohort to campus this fall

SUNY Broome welcomes its first PTECH cohort to campus this fall!

Thirty PTECH students are on-campus this semester. Students are concurrently enrolled; they are seniors in high school and enrolled on campus for 8 to 10 credits via Early College. We have students who are on track for matriculation to our Health Studies, Mechanical Engineering Technology, Civil Engineering Technology and Computer Technology programs.

For more information on PTECH and to watch a very informative video highlighting these 30 students, please visit:

<http://www.btbooces.org/PTECH.aspx>

Thirty PTECH students are on-campus this semester.

SUNY Broome welcomes its first PTECH cohort to campus this fall

Apply for the Second Chance Scholarship between Sept. 11 and Nov. 27

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Apply for the Second Chance Scholarship at www.sunybroome.edu/scholarshipsonline. Applications open on Sept. 11, 2017, with a deadline of Nov. 27, 2017.

Questions? Visit the BCC Foundation office in Wales Building Room 201.

Fast Forward new instructor orientation

September 10, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Fast Forward Program held its New Instructor Orientation on Wednesday, August 23. The FF staff and faculty welcomed 32 new instructors to campus. Instructors received a program orientation in the morning, followed by discipline-specific orientation, and ending with student registration and MyCollege 101.

The purpose of new instructor orientation is to provide new instructors with discipline-specific training regarding, but not limited to, course curriculum, assessment criteria, pedagogy, course philosophy, and administrative responsibilities and procedures prior to the start of the course.

Fast Forward has 32 new instructors and 115 returning instructors for 2017/2018.

The Fast Forward Program held its New Instructor Orientation on Wednesday, August 23.

Repair of the stairs in the Student Services Building

September 8, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Starting on Monday, September 11, 2017, the entrance on the east side of the Student Services Building will be closed so that the stairs and tile floor in that area can be repaired. This work will take three to five days. The western entrance to the building will remain open, as well as the northern entrance from parking lot #16.

If you have any questions, please contact David Ligeikis at 765-9710.

It's back: LinkedIn Tuesdays at the ALCC

September 8, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

We are excited to announce the return of LinkedIn Tuesdays at the Applied Learning and Career Center, located in the Applied Technologies atrium.

Karen McKenzie, our volunteer and LinkedIn expert, will be available each Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the ALCC to guide you through this great networking and job search tool, and to help you create or improve your profile. No appointments are necessary. Students, alumni and faculty are all welcome and encouraged to take advantage of this great opportunity!

Phi Theta Kappa International Film Series Fall 2017: Nationalism and Animation

September 8, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us for a Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society-sponsored film series designed to support the current Honors Study Topic, which is How the World Works: Global Perspectives.

Presiding Faculty: Our thanks go to our film guide, Dr. Mary Donnelly of the English Department. She notes, “Our films will move from Weimar Germany through the Fascist era, various versions of communism through the twentieth century and the modern era. Through this film series, we will look at the history of animation and the differing fantasies nations have used to represent themselves through the century.”

Questions should be sent to Professor I.J. Byrnes of the Philosophy Program and Faculty Adviser to Phi Theta Kappa at: byrnesij@sunybroome.edu

The scholarly goal of the film series is to increase global understanding and appreciation for other cultures. It is also designed to enhance the global competencies of the attendees and to further an understanding of Phi Theta Kappa’s honors study topic.

Finally, in an increasingly global job market, it will no doubt prove helpful to have an international-experience-at-home as scholars at Cornell University have described it.

Scholarly Certification: Those who attend the majority of the film series and participate in discussions will be awarded a certificate at the last scheduled screening.

The Film Festival will be held Wednesdays at 7 p.m. in the rooms indicated below in Titchener Hall on the following dates:

Wednesday, Sept. 20 in T-102

The Adventures of Prince Achmed (Germany 1926)

Wednesday, Oct. 4, in T-102

Motomaro's Divine Sea Warriors (Japan 1945)

Wednesday, Oct. 18, in T-102

The Snow Maiden (USSR 1952) and The Valuable Kopek (USSR 1949)

Wednesday, Nov. 1, in T-203

Uproar in Heaven (China 1964)

Wednesday, Nov. 15, in T-102

Vampires in Havana (Cuba 1985)

Wednesday, Dec. 6, in T-102

Triplets of Belleville (France 2003)

Reminder: All films start at 7 p.m.

Welcome to the Fall 2017 semester from SUNY Broome's chapter of Phi Theta Kappa

September 8, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Welcome from the President of SUNY Broome's Two-Year International Honor Society

Orion Barber, chapter president of SUNY Broome's chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

Hello, my name is Orion Barber and I am the chapter president of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society. Congratulations on your outstanding performance of a 3.5 or higher GPA, and welcome to Phi Theta Kappa.

By becoming a Phi Theta Kappan, you have entered an honor society that is recognized by colleges around the world, greatly improving your chances for winning awards, scholarships (some of which are exclusive to Phi Theta Kappans only) and getting accepted into your number 1 four-year college. If you wish to go to work after you graduate from SUNY Broome, then earning membership in Phi Theta Kappa will look good on your resume and impress your potential employer, but that is only the surface of what our organization is about.

Phi Theta Kappa has much to offer for those who work hard; much more than what can be stated in just a few short paragraphs. Our members have won SUNY Chancellor's awards, Hallmark awards, and prestigious scholarships on and off campus. If you want to learn more you can contact me with any questions you may have by emailing me at barberon@acad.sunybroome.edu, or finding me on Facebook; I am looking forward to hearing from you and congratulations again on your academic achievements!

A Message from the Phi Theta Kappa Faculty Adviser

Congratulations on being inducted into our campus chapter of the International Two-Year Honor Society known as Phi Theta Kappa! Your academic achievements have brought you into the fellowship of other student scholars. Like you, they are dedicated, hard-working and on their way to even greater achievement.

I urge you to build on your success at SUNY Broome by applying for scholarships on campus and making sure that you have a plan to transfer to a year college. You clearly have the talent and ability to go on for a baccalaureate degree...and much more.

Here's hoping you are setting about creating a great Fall....doing well in classes, applying for scholarships or preparing to transfer. Whether it's an Ivy League university, Binghamton University or thousands of colleges/universities across the nation, your achievements in Phi Theta Kappa are recognized. For more information on Phi Theta Kappa, be sure to go to the international website regularly at: www.ptk.org

Best regards for a great semester,

Professor I.J. Byrnes – Faculty Adviser to Phi Theta Kappa

Five Star Competitive Edge and College Fish

Pump up your resume by becoming a five-star student. Phi Theta Kappa's Five Star Competitive Edge provides you with a professional development plan to help you recognize and enhance your abilities to make you more competitive for scholarships, transfer and your career. Get started today at my.ptk.org.

CollegeFish.Org

Free and available 24/7-CollegeFish.org provides the tools needed for successful transfer to a four-year college or university. Get hooked on CollegeFish.org today! For more information contact enrollment@collegefish.org.

Meet our new 2017-2018 Executive Board Members!

Becoming a Member of Phi Theta Kappa

Membership in SUNY Broome's two-year international honor society is by invitation only, based on academic performance and college credits. A free information sheet regarding the honor society is available at our second floor bulletin board in Titchener Hall. Invitations to join Phi Theta Kappa are extended by the college president. Phi Theta Kappa at SUNY Broome is an award winning honor society whose members have been honored with the SUNY Chancellor's Award, International and New York State Region Hallmark Awards for Excellence, the Gold Scholar Award, the Jack Kent Cooke Scholarship, the All-USA and All-New York Academic Team, among other recognitions.

Phi Theta Kappa Sponsored Events on Campus, Fall 2017

Great Books Discussion, a weekly student-faculty literary discussion groups that meets Fridays at Noon, LA Conference Room, Titchener Hall, 210. First meeting is Friday, September 8

International Film Series Film screenings are held selected Wednesdays starting September 20 through December 6 in Titchener Hall starting at 7 p.m. There are 6 films in the series

Mickey Mouse Monopoly Panel Discussion and Common Hour, Thursday September 21, 11 a.m., T-102

Orientation Meeting, Induction Reception are invitation only events for prospective members whose academic credentials have made them eligible to join Phi Theta Kappa

Have a great start to the semester!

Sept. 28 campus festival to benefit Hurricane Harvey relief

September 8, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Please join the student program clubs from SUNY Broome's Business and Professional Studies Division for the Hurricane Harvey Relief Festival from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, on the green in front of campus near the basketball court.

The event will include a chicken BBQ as well as entertainment, a live magician, photo booth, corn hole, cotton candy, popcorn, hamburgers, hot dogs and so much more! All proceeds will be donated to the Houston flood victims.

The alternate location will be in between Student Services and Student Center.

HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF FESTIVAL

SEPTEMBER
THURSDAY
28

SUNY
BROOME
CAMPUS

#Hornets4Houston

All proceeds donated to Houston flood victims.

For more information please visit:
www.biorxiv.org
www.biorxiv.org

Explore Bachelor's degree options while attending SUNY Broome

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Did you know you could get ahead in your Bachelor's degree while attending SUNY Broome? The Bachelor's Degree Partnership Program provides you the opportunity to take additional courses at SUNY Broome once you have earned your associate's that will seamlessly transfer to Excelsior College or SUNY Empire State College! The flexibility of the two non-traditional colleges is perfect for working students, those raising families, or those who prefer an online degree format.

Having partnered with Excelsior College since the 1990s, hundreds of SUNY Broome students have earned their Bachelor's through this process. We are proud to announce that we are officially partnered with SUNY Empire State College, providing us the opportunity to offer you more degree options that fit your lifestyle and academic goals. Degree options include Business, Liberal Arts, Nursing, Criminal Justice, Health Sciences and Computer Science, among others. To learn about all the degree options available through Excelsior or SUNY Empire, please visit our website HERE.

If you would like to explore how your already earned credits will transfer to Excelsior or Empire State or what additional courses you can take here at SUNY Broome, please complete our online appointment form by clicking HERE. All advising and admissions processes take place here at SUNY Broome. Additional courses can be taken online, on-campus, or in a combination of those formats prior to transferring. Both online colleges offer various ways to earn credit including online courses, prior learning assessment, or testing for credit.

Complete our online appointment form by visiting www.sunybroome.edu/bachelor-partnerships-appt or email us at beyondbroome@sunybroome.edu.

Eye on the Arts: Sept. 22 concert to feature SUNY Broome faculty

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Gerald Grahame

After teaching 30 years in one place, it might be time for a swan song, and maybe some arias and duets too. The Music Program of SUNY Broome will present In Recital with Tenor Gerald Grahame and Friends at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 22, at the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre.

Noted pianist Margaret Reitz will accompany the recital. Featured will be arias and selections from the realm of oratorio such as Handel's Jephtha and excerpts from Schubert's Die Schöne Müllerin, as well songs by Samuel Barber and music from Manon Lescaut by Giacomo Puccini. Mr. Grahame will also perform duets from Bizet's Les Pêcheurs de Perles with soprano Brenda Dawe and Puccini's La Bohème with baritone Randolph Messing.

A musician of many talents, Mr. Grahame is known as a gifted conductor and voice teacher, but is probably best known as a notable opera and concert singer. After completing his Bachelor's of Music Education at SUNY Fredonia, he received his Master's of Music in Opera Performance from Binghamton University in conjunction with the Tri-Cities Opera, a company with which he has performed more than 20 lead roles, including Rodolfo in La Bohème, Alfred in Die Fledermaus, the title role in Faust, Edgardo in Lucia di Lammermoor, as well as the Interrogator in the world premiere of Ezra Laderman's Galileo Galilei. When he debuted with the New York City Opera, he was the recipient of that company's Rita and Herbert Z. Gold Debut Award. He went on to sing other roles with the company including Count Almaviva in Il Barbiere di Siviglia, Alfred in Die Fledermaus, and Tamino in The Magic Flute under the baton of Julius Rudel. Since then, Mr. Grahame has appeared with orchestras and opera companies throughout the country including the Binghamton Philharmonic, the Utica Symphony, the Syracuse Symphony, the Virginia Symphony, the Rochester Oratorio Society, and the National Symphony under Eric Leinsdorf, as well as the Syracuse Opera, the Tulsa Opera, the Cleveland Opera, Opera/Omaha, the Lake George Opera Festival and the Opera Company of Boston with Sarah Caldwell conducting.

Currently, Mr. Grahame is an adjunct music instructor at SUNY Broome, where he retired after 26 years as a music professor teaching voice and other courses in addition to his duties as director of the College Choir and Chamber Singers.

Pej Reitz

Pej Reitz, pianist, is a native of the Binghamton area. She received her Bachelor's and Master's of Music degrees in piano performance with accompanying emphasis. She attended Boston University, New England Conservatory and Binghamton University. She has studied piano with Jean Casadesus, Victor Rosenbaum, Seymour Fink and Walter Ponce and accompanied with Allen Rogers. She has accompanied throughout the United States, in England, South America, Spain, and Austria. She was the winner of the Artistic Ambassadors Program by the United States Information Agency in partnership with the John F. Kennedy Center for the performing arts. She is currently on the faculty at Binghamton University, Ithaca College School of Music and SUNY Broome.

General admission for the concert is $10 for adults with proceeds going to the BCC Foundation to support scholarships for applied voice students. The concert is free for students.

In the Community: 'Let's Talk Race' on Sept. 11

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The next session of "Let's Talk Race" will take place from 11 to 11:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 11 at Fairview United Methodist Church, 254 Robinson Street in Binghamton. During this session, the group will:

1. Review learning from previous sessions.
2. Talk about how to truly become allies in the work of racial justice in the Triple Cities.
3. Discuss concrete, meaningful actions.

International students in Becalos program experience Upstate New York at picnic

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Binghamton section of the American Society for Quality recently hosted 15 SUNY Broome students from Mexico to a Sept. 2 picnic at Chenango Valley State Park. This photo was taken and posted to the Binghamton ASQ website.

The Binghamton section of the American Society for Quality recently hosted 15 SUNY Broome students from Mexico to a Sept. 2 picnic at Chenango Valley State Park.

The students are on campus during the Fall 2017 semester as part of the SEP – Becalos – Santander Universidades Program, and are members of the American Society for Quality Student Branch. ASQ section leaders Dan and Peggy Snizek — the latter is a SUNY Broome Associate Professor and Chair of Computer Science — hosted the picnic.

According to the Binghamton ASQ, students hiked around the lake and enjoyed a picnic lunch before going boating. The students came from across Mexico, and boating was a new experience for many of them, according to organizers.

Upon arrival at the lake and picnic area, the students headed off for a 1.5 hour, 2.5 mile walk around the lake. Now, with hearty appetites, the students dug into a picnic lunch of sandwiches, potato and macaroni salad, vegetable and fruit tray, cookies, brownies, and soft drinks. Oh... and don't forget the red peppers!

“We’re looking forward to having the student participate in many of the Binghamton section’s dinner meetings and events. What a wonderful group of young people representing our good neighbor from the South!” the Binghamton ASQ chapter wrote in its report of the event.

From the Desk of Dr. Battisti: Welcome to the Fall 2017 semester

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Dear Colleagues,

As we settle into the schedule of the fall 2017 semester, I want to once again thank you for your dedication and commitment to our students.

Now that the Strategic Plan 2017-2020 has been developed and is presently being reviewed by the college Board of Trustees, this academic year offers us the opportunity to create a stronger culture for enhanced teaching/learning and greater student success. Within this context, each area of the college will review the strategic plan and develop plans of actions that address specific objectives and goals. As mentioned at the Faculty-Staff Assembly, many comprehensive resources were used to inform the quality of the discussion and analysis that went into this strategic plan. These include the: Academic Plan, Facilities Plan, Diversity Plan, Achieving Success Report, and the General Education Plan, along with a review of institutional data. To further enhance communication, a summary of the topics that are being discussed among the Chief Academic Officer's leadership team will be available to the campus community. Instructions on how to access this information will be made available as soon as it is set up.

Finally, I have included a copy of the August 2017 Board of Trustees Report with this message. As you can see, the faculty and staff on this campus continue to innovate and create in the interest of serving our students and in turn to benefit the greater community.

It is with pride and enthusiasm that I wish you well as we begin the fall semester.

BoT Report August 2017

Cordially,

Francis L. Battisti, Ph.D.

Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer

SUNY Distinguished Service Professor

SUNY Broome Community College

Sept. 14 Common Hour: Understanding Japanese Anime

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Common Hour Logo

Join faculty presenter David Michalak for “Understanding Japanese Anime” at 11 a.m. Sept. 14 in T-102.

How can a Westerner better understand the cultural underpinnings of Japanese anime? What should the viewer look for when watching this film genre and how has it influenced American culture? Find out!

New: Custom smoothie station in the Dining Hall

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

From 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Fridays this month, the Dining Hall will feature a custom smoothie and milkshake station.

American Dining Creations will feature three sizes of made-to-order beverages. Students can choose a base of yogurt, three flavors of ice cream, orange juice or coffee, and select from an array of different ingredients like mango, strawberries, coconut, kale, blueberries and more. They can finish their creation off with toppings like whipped cream, sprinkles, honey, or cereal.

Enjoy!

Sign up today: International Experiences at Home to Make Your Students a Great Catch for Jobs, Scholarships, Transfers

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professional Development logo

International-Experiences-at-Home To Make Your Students a Great Catch for Jobs, Scholarships, Transfer

Join our panelists for a discussion of the benefits of your students having international-experiences-at-home to enhance their resumes, make them stronger scholarship candidates, and upgrade their transfer application to a four-year college. Details will be provided to faculty regarding participation in collaborative on-line international learning opportunities.

Theme: Data informed decision making, the way forward at SUNY Broome.

When: Friday, September, 8th

Venue: W203B

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Presenter(s): Collaborative On-Line International Learning (COIL) Faculty Members Marcia Blackburn, Lynda Carroll, I.J. Byrnes, and Assistant Director of SUNY COIL, Jan McCauley

Register: Register Here

Health for Haiti News: Calm Before the Storm

September 7, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Professor Jen Musa gives the following update regarding the communities the Health for Haiti program supports. Click here for the Health for Haiti website and blog.

Rice growing in the community garden in Grande Saline, Haiti.

It seems like the whole world is watching the path of Hurricane Irma as it moves through the Caribbean and towards the United States. While it looks as if Haiti will be spared a potentially catastrophic direct hit from powerful Hurricane Irma, there are grave concerns about heavy rainfall that will cause devastating flooding in the already fragile country. We are in contact with our friends in Port au Prince and Grande Saline, and we hope that everyone will have shelter and be safe. Hurricane season is always a scary time.

In the mean time, we have good news from Grande Saline. The rice growing in the community garden is looking beautiful. If all continues to go well, it should be ready for harvest in late October. It is great to see all those future lunches growing in the garden!

And we have heard that the teachers in Grande Saline are excited and ready to welcome the children back to begin school on Monday (weather permitting). There are exciting plans in place for new classrooms and desks, and we have twenty children who are able to start school next week because of the Helping Children School Scholarship Program.

Teachers in Grande Saline, Haiti, are excited and ready to welcome the children back to begin school on Monday (weather permitting).

Here in the U.S., we are excited to welcome new students to the 2018 Health for Haiti class. We have some exciting projects coming together for January! Interested students should apply now using the link on the front page of this website.

As we wait to see what Irma brings, we hope for the safety of everyone in the path of the hurricane. Thanks for following Health for Haiti.

Apply now for the Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship

September 6, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Community college sophomores and recent graduates are eligible to apply for the Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship. Recipients are awarded up to $40,000 per year to complete their bachelor's degree, in addition to opportunities for internships, study abroad, and graduate school funding.

Click here to learn more and apply. The deadline is noon, Oct. 24.

Interacting with Suicidal Students

September 6, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

Acknowledge, care, treatment: Stop a suicide

The attached memo was developed to serve as a reminder that students in distress may come to us asking for help with a variety of concerns. Unfortunately, people can feel overwhelmed and that there is no other choice than to commit suicide.

Within this memo are suggestions for those interacting with a suicidal student, as well as some information as to newer media presences that might influence our students.

Although this is NOT a responsibility placed upon you, we wanted to take this opportunity to provide some information should you want to engage in this type of conversation.

Please contact Counseling Services, the Office of Public Safety, or the Dean of Students Office with questions.

Growth In Sensationalizing Suicide

Yoga: Short and Sweet runs Sept. 12 through Oct. 19

September 6, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

Join us for YOGA: Short and Sweet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from Sept. 12 through Oct. 19 in Student Center Room 106.

Classes run from 12 to 12:30 p.m. on Sept. 12, 14, 19, 21, 26 and 28 and Oct. 3, 5, 10, 12, 17 and 19, and are taught by Allison Ellis. In this 30-minute lunchtime rejuvenation program, you'll learn to breathe deeply, move slowly, connect and restore, starting with a Vinyasa warmup that allows you to feel more calm, centered, strong and flexible.

Short and sweet will provide a well-balanced workout so you feel refreshed and ready to conquer the rest of your day. Bring a yoga mat and water bottle with you. There's a limit of 20 participants.

The class is sponsored by the SUNY Broome Wellness Committee at no charge to faculty and staff. To register, Contact Continuing Education at 778-5012; Course Reference GW005-01.

Save the Date: Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center groundbreaking ceremony on Sept. 21

September 6, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us as we celebrate breaking ground on the former Mechanical Technology Building's transformation into The Paul & Mary Calice and Mildred Barton Advanced Manufacturing Center!

The event begins at 11 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 21, 2017, on the SUNY Broome campus.

Save the Date

THURSDAY • SEPTEMBER 21, 2017 • 11 A.M.
SUNY BROOME COMMUNITY COLLEGE
907 FRONT ST, BINGHAMTON, NY 13905

The Paul and Mary
CALICE
& Mildred Barton
Advanced Manufacturing Center

Help us celebrate breaking ground on the former Mechanical Technology
Building's transformation into
The Calice Advanced Manufacturing Center.

Sept. 7 t-shirt fundraiser to aid colleges hit by Hurricane Harvey

September 6, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Buy a t-shirt and support Hurricane Harvey recovery efforts. The fundraiser runs from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 7, in the Ice Center Events Room, and t-shirts are $15.

The NJCAA National Office launched a joint campaign with Team IP centered around a special “Texas Strong – #NJCAACares” t-shirt to help raise funds for member colleges in Region 14 dealing with the devastation of Hurricane Harvey. The NJCAA has 21 member colleges in southeast Texas – identified in the association as NJCAA Region 14 – and many have experienced catastrophic damage and flooding over the past week.

Sept. 7 Common Hour: Enough is Enough

September 6, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join Haley Murphey, a campus liaison and confidential advocate from the Crime Victims Assistance Center, for a Common Hour presentation on “Enough is Enough.” She will discuss the landmark program that went into effect on all college campuses in New York State and protects and offers more support for student victims of interpersonal violence.

She will host sessions monthly. The more times you attend the greater chance you have to win a gift card at the end of the semester!

The event starts at 11 a.m. Sept. 7 in Old Science Building 202.

Haley MurphyCampus Liaison & Confidential Liaison

Campus to hold annual 9/11 remembrance ceremony

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome will host its annual 9/11 remembrance ceremony at 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 11, 2017, outside the Darwin R. Wales Center.

The event, which commemorates the tragic events that occurred on September 11, 2001, will take place in front of the building's flagpole.

The campus community, local community and media are invited.

Living Mentally Well: A discussion on Sept. 14

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Kevin Hines. Image from
<http://www.kevinhinesstory.com/>

Mental health advocate and speaker Kevin Hines will be on campus Sept. 14 for an intimate discussion on Living Mentally Well from 11 to 11:50 a.m. Sept. 14 in Decker Health Sciences Room 201.

In September 2000, Hines jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge in a suicide attempt. One of only 36 people to survive this leap, he now actively spreads the message of living healthy around the globe. Hines' will to live and stay mentally well have inspired people around the world.

This event is sponsored by GHS Federal Credit Union, MHASt and SUNY Broome Counseling Services.

Criminal Justice & Emergency Services Career Expo on Sept. 8

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join us from 10 a.m. to noon Friday, Sept. 8, 2017 in the Applied Technology Building atrium for the annual Criminal Justice & Emergency Services Career Preparedness Expo.

The event is open to all majors, and students in the Criminal Justice — Police and Corrections, Homeland Security, Fire Science and EMT/Paramedic program are encouraged to attend.

Participants will learn about careers in the field, civil service testing, internships and volunteer opportunities.

Speak one-on-one with representatives from:

American Red Cross, Binghamton Police, Broome County Community Emergency Response Team, Broome County Fire, Broome County Office of Emergency Services, Broome County Government Security, Broome County Sheriff's, City of Binghamton Parks & Recreation, City of Ithaca Police, Cooperstown Medical Transport, NYS Corrections, NYS Department of Corrections & Community Supervision, NYS Police, NYS University Police (B.U.), SUNY Broome Public Safety, SUNY Emergency Management (B.U.), and more!

The event is hosted by the Applied Learning & Career center in conjunction with SUNY Broome's CJES Department.

On-campus construction activities for the week of Sept. 5, 2017

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The following construction activities are planned for the week of Sept. 5, 2017. Please pay attention to and abide by all construction signage in these areas.

- Asbestos removal/abatement and demolition will continue on the second floor of the old Mechanical Building.
- Trenching, looping and grouting for both the horizontal piping and vertical wells in the geothermal well field, located in the Quad, will begin this week.
- Foundation excavation for the new Calice Advanced Manufacturing Building will begin this week.
- Repair and repainting of the SUNY Broome Oz Winters Tennis Courts should be completed this week.

Sept. 7 Common Hour: Psyched Out

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Common Hour Logo

Join Dr. Bill Altman of the Psychology Department and other members of the faculty for “Psyched Out” at 11 a.m. Sept. 7 in T-102.

You’ll get fascinating tips and techniques that will be useful to you, your friends and family — right now! The event will focus on the latest psychological findings on topics such as motivation, perception, success at school and work, dealing with social situations, and lots of other hot topics.

Great Books Discussion to begin Sept. 8

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

This semester's Great Books Discussion will begin at noon Sept. 8 in the LA Conference Room, located in T-210.

The books that will be discussed during the Fall 2017 semester are Interpreter of Maladies by Jhumpa Lahiri and The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao by Juot Diaz. These books have earned acclaim as notable books of the 21st century and are Pulitzer Prize winners.

For further information, contact I.J. Byrnes at byrnesij@sunybroome.edu. This event is sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa and the English Department.

SUNY Strong for Texas – Hurricane Harvey Relief Effort

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

GOVERNOR CUOMO ANNOUNCES SUNY TO HOST STATEWIDE COLLECTION DRIVE & DELIVER SUPPLIES TO TEXAS FOR HURRICANE HARVEY RELIEF

Donations to be Delivered Aboard SUNY Maritime College's Empire State VI to Texas

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo today announced the State University of New York will host a statewide collection drive online and at SUNY Plaza in Albany to aid in relief and recovery efforts from Hurricane Harvey. Cash donations will be converted into needed supplies and delivered to Texas aboard SUNY Maritime's training vessel, the Empire State VI.

"New Yorkers know firsthand the devastation that Mother Nature can bring, and we are committed to doing everything we can to help Texas recover from Hurricane Harvey," Governor Cuomo said. "This drive demonstrates our core New York values of neighbors standing with neighbors in need, and I encourage all New Yorkers to donate what they can to help in these recovery efforts."

SUNY Chancellor Kristina M. Johnson said, "For more than a week now, we have seen the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey continue to take its toll on Southeast Texas. We have kept in our thoughts and prayers a city whose infrastructure has been devastatingly compromised and whose residents have experienced terrible loss. We have also seen our nation at its best, as communities across the country have come together to offer their support. With the Empire State VI heading to Beaumont next weekend, SUNY has a new opportunity to contribute as well. Thank you to Governor Cuomo for his support, and to President Alfultis and the Maritime community for leading this relief effort on SUNY's behalf."

Rear Adm. Michael Alfultis, president of SUNY Maritime said, "Harvey's scale and impact has been far-reaching and we, as a college, are hopeful that the arrival of the Empire State VI and these donated items will help in the recovery efforts that will take many months to complete. We are glad to support the recovery efforts in any way we can."

Students, families, local organizations, and community groups across New York are invited to make monetary donations Tuesday, Sept. 5 – Thursday Sept. 7 between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. at SUNY Plaza or contribute to the drive online. SUNY Maritime is working with organizations including the Grace Community Baptist Church, Hillcrest Baptist Church, and the Islamic Society of Triplex to provide needed supplies such as water, towels, linens, canned goods, diapers, and cleaning supplies.

SUNY System volunteers will use all monetary donations to purchase, package, and ship needed supplies to Texas aboard the Empire State VI. All donations should be made to the SUNY Impact Foundation for the relief effort as follows:

Online: Visit SUNY Strong for Hurricane Harvey Relief here

In-person: SUNY Plaza, 353 Broadway, Albany, New York

SUNY Maritime College's Empire State VI is scheduled to leave for Texas this coming week. The ship will be used to provide housing, power, food and water to first responders, thereby freeing up local hotel resources for displaced individuals. The Empire State VI has berthing for more than 600 people.

The Empire State VI's mission to Texas will last 30 days, with an option for an additional 30 days upon request by the Federal Emergency Management Agency. The Empire State VI was used to support relief operations for Superstorm Sandy in 2012 and Hurricane Katrina in 2005.

The Empire State VI belongs to the Maritime Administration, a branch of the Department of Transportation. Maritime College operates the ship to educate and train young men and women who plan to pursue careers in the commercial shipping industry, and the Empire State VI is the primary platform for the students' hands-on training.

Employment opportunity: BCC Foundation Seeks Student Phonathon Callers

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Applications are being accepted for the Fall 2017 Phonathon. Interviews will be conducted at the end of September. Calling will be conducted from October 1 to December 14.

Phonathon is a fundraising program at SUNY Broome Community College in which our students call SUNY Broome alumni and invite them to support the SUNY Broome Annual Fund. Phonathon Callers also educate alumni about the needs that still exist for the campus and updates that are occurring and how their support makes a difference. Phonathon callers also update alumni contact information and help to answer any questions alumni may have regarding special events, programs or news at the College.

Click the link below to fill out an online application:

<https://mycollege.sunybroome.edu/web/www/bcc-foundation-employment>

Speakers of the House September meetings

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Want to communicate with confidence? Become a better speaker and presenter? Learn to listen effectively while developing your leadership skills and helping others reach their goals? Join Speakers of the House, SUNY Broome's chapter of Toastmasters International!

You're invited to attend any of their meetings, which take place at 3:10 p.m. on the following Fridays: September 8, 15, 22 and 29.

For more information visit <http://speakersofthehouse.toastmastersclubs.org/> or find us on Facebook: Speakers of the House.

Live Well, Work Well Newsletter – September 2017

September 5, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

In this month's Live Well, Work Well newsletter, learn the signs of opioid addiction, how to be prepare for a catastrophic event and tips to help make the first day of school less stressful. Download below for all the details.

Live Well, Work Well September 2017

Focus on Wellness: Get up, stand up...for the sake of your arteries!

September 5, 2017

Categories: FOCUS on Wellness

Need inspiration to get those steps in? Check out this article from the Cleveland Clinic:

Cars, couches, and office chairs don't come with a surgeon general's warning, but maybe they should, especially if you spend a lot of time in one or more of these three backside rest stations. Studies citing the harmful effects of sitting too long are rolling in, with some even linking the habit to heart disease and early death.

A new study shows that "over-sitting" may wreak havoc by increasing calcium deposits in the arteries of your heart, which increases the risk of a heart attack. But there's good news too: Reducing your daily sitting time by just an hour or two can make your arteries substantially younger.

The key is to move periodically, at least: Sketch out your day and figure out when you can disrupt long stretches of sitting with some physical activity, even if you just stand up. Plan a leisurely stroll with a friend instead of meeting at a café. Instead of driving to the grocery store or to visit a neighbor, can you walk or bike? At work, use a standing desk for at least part of the day, if possible — or take frequent "stand and stretch" breaks. Continue your dinner conversations with a family walk around the block instead of remaining seated at the table. Start looking for opportunities to get up and move and you'll find them everywhere — except, of course, the car, couch, or office chair.

In the Community: Join the 1913 Binghamton Suffrage Parade Reenactment on Oct. 7

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The 1913 Binghamton Suffrage Parade Reenactment is scheduled for Saturday, October 7. It's part of New York's Path Through History Weekend.

The parade committee is seeking participants for the historical reenactment portion of the parade, as well as groups to march in the second "modern" half. Women and men are needed to play the roles of suffragists and male sympathizers to the suffrage movement; these volunteers will need to dress in period-era attire, including white blouse, long skirt and hat for women and slacks, frock coat (or Western-style coat) and hat for men. Women's sashes or ribbons will be provided.

If you're interested in volunteering, fill out the form at the link below or you can pick up a form at the Local History and Genealogy Center on the second floor of the Broome County Library. If you have questions, call Assemblywoman Lupardo's office at 607-723-9047.

https://drive.google.com/.../0B49nX5\_-T4iCazNxWFXQUhKSfk/view

Suffrage Parade Form

Academic programs: Admissions would like to meet with you!

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Admissions Office is extending an open invitation to all academic programs to meet with the Admissions Team.

The Admissions Office hosts collaborative meetings every Wednesday at 9 a.m. for academic programs to come, connect with the Admissions Team, and share new and exciting information about your program. Please contact Elisabeth Costanzo Stewart at costanzoes@sunybroome.edu to schedule a Wednesday meeting with Admissions.

SUNY Broome Executive Vice President has peer-reviewed research published

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

RESEARCH

RESEARCH

SUNY Broome Executive Vice President and Chief Academic Officer Francis Battisti and his wife, Dr. Helen Battisti, wrote a peer-reviewed article that was recently published in the Journal of Obesity & Weight Loss Therapy.

The article, “Does Long-term Equine Assisted Learning have an Effect on Childhood Weight Management?,” was written with Roni McAbee of the South Wind Stable and Equestrian Center, and involved research the trio conducted on 17 overweight and obese girls, ages 7 to 12, who participated in a year-long program.

Click here to read more.

Apply for the Second Chance Scholarship between Sept. 11 and Nov. 27

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Apply for the Second Chance Scholarship at www.sunybroome.edu/scholarshipsonline. Applications open on Sept. 11, 2017, with a deadline of Nov. 27, 2017.

Questions? Visit the BCC Foundation office in Wales Building Room 201.

Adjunct Council Meet and Greet on Sept. 12

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

All adjunct faculty are welcome to the Adjunct Council Meet and Greet from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 12, in Decker 117 (the Libous Room). Light refreshments will be served.

Fall 2017 Open House: November 4

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

While this semester has just begun, September 15 marks the opening of the Spring and Fall 2018 applications. To help bolster enrollment for these upcoming terms, SUNY Broome will continue to offer a Fall Open House.

A Fall Open House allows Broome to recruit students for the Spring 2018 semester and align a recruitment event with many college application deadlines. We had great success with the Fall 2016 Open House. More than 400 prospective students were in attendance, and 40 students took advantage of Instant Admit. We look forward to continuing and growing the Fall Open House with your support.

Please mark your calendar for Saturday, November 4, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Baldwin Gym.

Upcoming Professional Development Events

September 5, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Student Success and You:

OER's and other Student Success Strategies

Join Dr. Francis Battisti, Executive Vice-President and Chief Academic Officer, in his monthly campus-wide discussions about academic issues that impact the College. Coffee and tea will be served

When: Thursday, September, 7th

Venue: W203B

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Dr. Francis Battisti

Register: Register Here

International-Experiences-at-Home To Make Your Students a Great Catch for Jobs, Scholarships, Transfer

Join our panelists for a discussion of the benefits of your students having international-experiences-at-home to enhance their resumes, make them stronger scholarship candidates, and upgrade their transfer application to a four-year college. Details will be provided to faculty regarding participation in collaborative on-line international learning opportunities.

Theme: Data informed decision making, the way forward at SUNY Broome.

When: Friday, September, 8th

Venue: W203B

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Presenter(s): Collaborative On-Line International Learning (COIL) Faculty Members Marcia Blackburn, Lynda Carroll, I.J. Byrnes, and Assistant Director of SUNY COIL, Jan McCauley

Register: Register Here

Purple Briefcase Training: Connecting Students to Careers

The Applied Learning and Career Center has launched a brand new Career Services Management platform called Purple Briefcase. Purple Briefcase will connect students and alumni with employers and jobs, as well as provide an endless amount of resources. Faculty and staff will have the ability to use the platform to connect with their students and help them become career-ready. Please join us as we train and offer support to faculty and staff on how to use this important resource!

When: Friday, September, 15th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Presenter: Gina Chase

Register: Register Here

Blackboard Advanced: Managing Your Online Course

Managing your Online Course will be offered in a 1-hour time format to faculty who have completed the Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series.

Managing Your Online Course is a review of how to effectively grade and utilize the grade center using the new Blackboard course management system. This training will cover how to grade discussions, assignments, and essay/short answer assignments and how to ensure these grades are accurately presented in the grade center. Training will also include higher-order uses of the grade center not covered in the original Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series. Participants will leave with a more complete understanding of the course management potential of the Blackboard course management system.

Seats are limited, reserve your seat today!

When: Friday, September 15th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Presenter(s): Tera Doty-Blance

Register: Register Here

Blackboard Advanced: Grade Center

Grade Center will be offered in a 1-hour time format to faculty who have completed the Blackboard 1-2-3 Training series.

This workshop is a review of how to effectively utilize the grade center. This training will cover how to maximize the grade center capabilities and tailor the grade center to your institution.

When: Friday, September 15th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm

Presenter(s): Tera Doty-Blance

Register: Register Here

Upcoming Doctoral Colloquium Presentations

“God Bless the Revolution: Episcopalians and Social Justice”

My work seeks to understand how a religious denomination that avoided every major social issue of the 19th century, including slavery, became a leading voice of progressive Christianity in the 20th century. My quest to finish the Ph.D. is a story of overcoming illness, changing advisors and all the typical roadblocks to finishing the degree.

When: Wednesday, September 13th

Venue: TRC Lab (LI 101)

Time: 3:00 pm – 4:30 pm

Presenter(s): Dr. Phyllis Amenda

Register: Register Here

All presentations are from 3-4:30 pm in the TRC Conference room

each offering will be individually advertised for registration

October 11, 2017                      Dr. Julia O’Connell                      “Sound, Sin, and Conversion in Victorian England”

November 8, 2017                      Dr. Amy Zieziula                      “An Analysis of Campus Civility: Best Practices from Student Affairs Professionals”

December 13, 2017                      Dr. Carol Ross                      “An Exploratory-Comparative Study of Black, Community College, Associate in Arts Degree
Students’ Concerns about Completing the Bachelor’s Degree”

The Monday Poem: 'Immortality' by Lise Mueller

September 3, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The Monday Poem is brought to you by Professor Jim Gormley of the English Department. Enjoy!

Immortality

In Sleeping Beauty's castle
the clock strikes one hundred years and the girl in the tower returns to the world.

So do the servants in the kitchen, who don't even rub their eyes.
The cook's right hand, lifted an exact century ago, completes its downward arc to the kitchen boy's left ear;
the boy's tensed vocal cords finally let go
the trapped, enduring whimper, and the fly, arrested mid-plunge above the strawberry pie, fulfills its abiding mission and dives into the sweet, red glaze.

As a child I had a book with a picture of that scene.
I was too young to notice

how fear persists, and how the anger that causes fear persists, that its trajectory can't be changed or broken, only interrupted.
My attention was on the fly;
that this slight body
with its transparent wings and lifespan of one human day still craved its particular share of sweetness, a century later.

—Lisel Mueller

Poet and translator Lisel Mueller was born in Hamburg, Germany in 1924. The daughter of teachers, her family was forced to flee the Nazi regime when Mueller was 15. They immigrated to the US and settled in the Mid-west. Mueller attended the University of Evansville, where her father was a professor, and did her graduate study at Indiana University. Her collections of poetry include The Private Life, which was the 1975 Lamont Poetry Selection; Second Language (1986); The Need to Hold Still (1980), which received the National Book Award; Learning to Play by Ear (1990); and Alive Together: New & Selected Poems (1996), which won the Pulitzer Prize. Her other awards and honors include the Carl Sandburg Award, the Helen Bullis Award, the Ruth Lilly Prize, and a National Endowment for the Arts fellowship. She has also published translations, most recently Circe's Mountain by Marie Luise Kaschnitz (1990).

Mueller's work frequently treats history, as well as the folk and fairy tales she studied as a graduate student. As she wrote, "I write a lot of poems that have tension between what is going on now in society and what has always been there. My poems are much concerned with history. The message is obvious. My family went through terrible times. In Europe no one has had a private life not affected by history. I'm constantly aware of how privileged we (Americans) are."

Save the Date: September 12 Ice Cream Social

September 3, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream! Stop by the Baldwin Gymnasium on Tuesday, September 12, between 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. for ice cream and get to know the SUNY Broome support staff.

College Democrats to host political candidates: First event on Sept. 5

September 1, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

The College Democrats Student Club at SUNY Broome is hosting a series of town halls for political candidates. Come and hear from candidates running for office on the following dates, from 11 to 11:50 a.m. in Titchener 102:

- Sept. 5: Daniel Livingston for Broome County Clerk
- Sept. 19 – Tarik Abdelazim for City of Binghamton Mayor
- Oct. 10: Heath Phillips for Congress (District 22)
- Oct. 24: Assemblyman Anthony Brindisi for Congress (District 22)

Theater Director Katherine Bacon in 'First Ladies' in Hancock, NY, Friday, September 8

September 1, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

SUNY Broome Theater Director Katherine Bacon will be appearing again as Lady Bird Johnson in the upcoming performance of First Ladies by local playwright/producer Judith Present at 7:30 PM on Friday, September 8 at the Two Sisters Emporium in Hancock, NY. This is a one-time performance before the show goes on their Autumn Tour. For more information call 607-637-5200

First Ladies gives presidents' wives a chance to tell their story. Mary Lincoln, Dolly Madison, Lady Bird Johnson and Nancy Reagan are featured. First ladies are never voted for nor do they get paid, yet without them what would our presidents have done? The "ladies" give an assessment of who they are and how they affected their husband's presidencies. "It is great that Judith Present has created this work that puts a light on the women who have helped make history. I am so proud to be depicting Lady Bird who was a great First Lady and who continued to work for the country long afterwards," Katherine says.

This play has been performed at museums, historical societies, and small theaters throughout the region but Katherine only joined the cast this past spring.

Two Sisters Emporium presents "First Ladies" by Judith Present on Sept, 8th at 7:30 pm. Tickets are $12. For more information call 607-637-5200

Work Study Student Assistant needed in the ALCC!

September 1, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Join our awesome ALCC team!

The Applied Learning & Career Center is looking for a student with energy, enthusiasm, and excellent customer service skills. Computer skills are a must and the preferred candidate has experience in an office setting (answering phones, greeting public, basic office duties). Flexible hours are available (approx 10 – 20 hrs/wk).

Please send resume to Jeanie Kumpon at kumponjm@sunybroome.edu or hand deliver to the ALCC, located at AT 101.

Sept. 7 Common Hour: Psyched Out

September 1, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

Common Hour Logo

Join Dr. Bill Altman of the Psychology Department and other members of the faculty for “Psyched Out” at 11 a.m. Sept. 7 in T-102.

You’ll get fascinating tips and techniques that will be useful to you, your friends and family — right now! The event will focus on the latest psychological findings on topics such as motivation, perception, success at school and work, dealing with social situations, and lots of other hot topics.

Men's Basketball Meeting

September 1, 2017

Categories: Uncategorized

There will be a preseason meeting on Thursday, September 7th in the Baldwin Gymnasium at 4:30 p.m. for anyone interested in participating in the men's basketball program. Student-Athletes must have a physical on file before participating in an intercollegiate sport, including off-season workouts and practices. Contact head coach, Larry King at 607-760-3568 with any questions.