

SUNY Broome Performing Arts Week opens with the renaming of the Little Theatre

May 7, 2015

SUNY Broome's Performing Arts Week opens the evening of May 8 with the renaming of the Little Theatre in honor of the late SUNY Broome Professor Angelo Zuccolo.

A reception runs from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in the Dining Hall, located near the Angelo Zuccolo Little Theatre in the Student Center.

The event will include the unveiling of a bronze bust of Zuccolo, the driving force behind the College's theater program for 30 years, as well as recollections from family and colleagues. Sculptor John Giannotti, who created the bust, will also attend.

The opening night performance of "Flights of Fancy: Four Plays by David Ives" will follow at 7 p.m. in the theater.

Performing Arts Week runs from May 8 to 15 and includes a variety of theater, music and dance performances. Events showcase the work of SUNY Broome's music, dance and oral interpretation students, as well as guest soloists. For this first time this year, some events will take place off campus at the Schorr Family Firehouse Stage in Johnson City.
