

SUNY Broome professor featured in reading at Spool MFG from Sept. 24-26

September 23, 2015

SUNY Broome Professor of English David Chirico will be joining Binghamton University Assistant Professor of Theater Elizabeth Mozer and Professor Emeritus Donald Boros in a reading from Samuel Beckett's fiction in "I Owe My Existence to No One," to be held at Spool MFG in Johnson City. Performances will run from Thursday to Saturday, September 24-26, starting promptly at 8 p.m.

No latecomers will be accepted. Admission is free. Donations will be accepted.

Filed Under: Focus on Accomplishments