

SUNY Broome shares messages of support with Umpqua Community College

October 6, 2015

The SUNY Broome community shared its messages of support and solidarity with Umpqua Community College.

As an expression of our sympathies and our solidarity among community college academic communities nationwide, the campus observed a 5-minute moment of silence Monday morning between classes at 10:50 a.m. The campus community was also encouraged to wear green and gold, Umpqua school colors, in memory of those who were killed so senselessly.

Students, faculty and staff — including SUNY Broome President Kevin E. Drumm — also penned messages of support on a banner in the Student Center. The banner will be sent to the Umpqua community.
