

The passing of Ralph Hall

August 5, 2015

Ralph Hall, a long-time adjunct in the History, Philosophy, and Social Sciences Department, passed away the weekend of August 1. Ralph was active in many campus and community events, including the college's Applied Ethics Conference and community arts and theater organizations. A US Army veteran, Ralph also worked in an executive capacity at Binghamton General Hospital. A sympathy card to be sent to Ralph's family, is available at Renee Kovac's desk in the Liberal Arts Office.
